Changing Gear

1992-1993

Dedication

We dedicate Pride 1993 to our new Director of the Senior School, Michael Matthews. Accustomed to change, Mr. Matthews has lived and worked in England, Brussels, Toronto, and now Victoria. His interests range from physics and math to rowing and rugby.

Mr. Matthews has brought many changes to Glenlyon-Norfolk School, including: the Campus Care Program, the Student Code Committee, and green tights. His plans for next year include a common room or a student lounge. He was responsible for creating new courses for next year, including Creative Writing for Grades 9 and 10 and Anthropology 11. New credits range from Band to Yearbook.

We look forward to further changes with Mr. Matthews in the years to come.

Message From The HEAD GEAR

'Plus Ça Change: Plus C'est La Môme Chose' - Alphonse Carr

A change in the Administrative structure of the school has proved to be a wise and successful move following six successful years of unabated growth since amalgamation.

This year, the Senior School has its own office in the Gudewill Building and from there, the new Director has shaped the direction of the Senior Campus this year.

It has given me, as Headmaster, a greater opportunity to treat all of our three campuses equally; indeed my role has changed too. I have certainly appreciated the many frequent opportunities to visit the Junior Girls' and Junior Boys' Campuses to feel the spirit

there and to be more involved with them in the classroom, at athletic events and on special occasions. School spirit is crucial to a vibrant school but is not something we can take for granted. It ebbs and flows from year to year and, indeed, even throughout the year. We can build it in all that we do: through our competitive teams, our choirs, our dramatic productions, our House games, our community service, our fairs and barbecues. Indeed it is not only in everything we do but it is the very essence of how we do things.

There are simply a staggering number of activities that take place at all our campuses. The energy and enthusiasm for each event illustrates the spirit of the School and can be felt through the pages of this yearbook. Indeed although our structure may undergo changes, the ethos, the culture, the spirit of the School remain the same. We hear the lions 'roar' and do what we do with 'pride'.

In the beginning..... we needed a theme. We wanted something different and unique to this year. Immediately, the many changes to G.N.S. came to mind, such as the many new students and staff, and our new director, Mr. Matthews. There were many physical changes as well; ranging from our new buildings and office, to the acceptance of green tights. But most importantly there seems to be a new positive attitude at G.N.S. this year. We tried to capture and reflect this change in pace in Pride 1993.

I have been asked by the Editors to focus my comments on the topic of 'Change at GNS'; this, of course, is somewhat difficult for me, given that I am one of the changes, have no knowledge of GNS prior to this year, and so have no reference point from which to observe any changes. I will attempt, therefore, to give a perspective on change in general.

First let me say that change in a school is both inevitable and desirable. We claim to prepare students for a successful and constructive role in what is a rapidly developing society; if we do not reflect and respond to that development, our students will be limited in their options upon graduation. The secret, of course, is to change and grow while preserving the characteristics which give the school its unique identity.

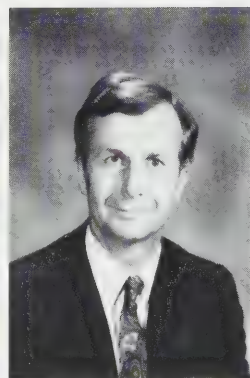

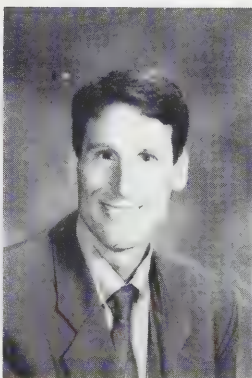

What are those characteristics in the case of GNS? You know better than I do; By the time you graduate you may have been here longer than most teachers, and you will certainly have a more complete image of the school than any other member of the community. It is likely that most of your friendships, your activities and your interests have grown out of the school context, and it is these elements which form, in every meaningful sense, the school identity.

Changes in administration, like changes in curriculum, can only have a peripheral effect; they only affect what the school does, not what it is. That is determined by the individuals who make up the school, of whom you, the students, form the overwhelming majority, and which therefore is unique to any particular year. It is this unique identity, made up of people rather than policies, which a yearbook preserves. In years to come you will search through it in vain for any idea of what the school policies were in 1992/1993, because they will be irrelevant. What you will be looking for, and what you will find, are the memories of the particular mix of characters that you grew up with.

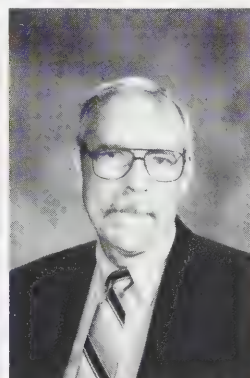

So, this yearbook represents the real identity of the GNS that you have known, and which is immune to any changes of administration or policy; hang on to it.

(P.S. It is comforting that some things never change: in writing this yearbook article I have gone through what is, for me, a very familiar pattern of fine intentions, missed deadlines, and embarrassed explanations to a reproachful editor.)

FACES IN THE CROWD

SURVEY

ACCORDING TO THE STUDENTS OF G.N.S., HERE ARE THE RESULTS OF THIS YEAR'S SCHOOL LIFE SURVEY:

When the weekend rolls around and it's time to get a hot date, try looking at the #1 place to pick-up both guys and gals; you guessed it, your own school, Glenlyon-Norfolk. You may find it hard to believe, but according to you, G.N.S. is the numero uno Hot Spot. Once you've found that special someone, you can stop by that happening hang-out, 7-11. Don't worry if there is no 7-11 in your area, because G.N.S. is the next best place to be. That hanging-out will surely get your appetite going, so try grabbing a foot to eat at Subway. Although some thought that a table would be the ultimate eating facility, Subway did top the charts.

Once your appetite is satisfied you have a couple of options. If T.V. viewing is the choice for you, make sure it is Saturday, and you can catch the number one late night show Saturday Night Live. Be sure not to turn on the tube on a Wednesday, around 8 o'clock for you will catch your least favourite show, Beverly Hills 90210. If T.V. viewing isn't your thing, no worries, for you can catch one of the movies of the year, Alive or Aladdin. If they are not in the theatre do not fret, for I am sure that your local video store will have them. If by chance they are not in, you can pick up another flick with your favourite actors Robin Williams and Sharon Stone.

OF COURSE WHAT WOULD A SURVEY BE WITHOUT 'THE MOST LIKELY TO BECOME...'

If you think that there are problems with politics now, we have the answer for you. Paul Geddes and Cam Dinning are the future inhabitants of Sussex Drive. You guessed it, the next Prime Ministers. Of course they will never be on the cover of Rolling Stone as our movie star James Todd and rock star Scott MacPherson. When you're in need of a car, stop by the used car dealership and talk to Colin Curtis. When you purchase your car, be sure it's tuned to K-Lite where Adrian Hunt will be rockin' the night away. When you're cruising along to 7-11, managed by Geordie Lyall, watch out for Officer Tony Gable's radar gun. Once you have arrived home, be sure to tune in to Family Fued where your own Head Boy, Leroy Anderson, is the host. For the kids, there is always Bobby's World starring Jeremy Northeast's voice. As far as wars go, David Hannah will be fighting in 'em, and Deanna Bhandar will be stopping them.

Other houses they can try
 But they won't get far-
 Caister's in the lead
 We're gonna' stay where we are!
 We kick dust in your face!
 You're a big disgrace!
 We're beating your kind all over the place!
 WE WILL, WE WILL ROCK YOU!
 At intramurals we're awesome!
 We win!
 Sound of victory!
 Gonna' take on you all someday.
 Won't be a smile on your face
 You're a big disgrace!
 WE WILL, WE WILL ROCK YOU!
 Dereham is an old man!
 Walsingham-
 What a shaggy dog!
 Wymondham, gonna'- shoot that moose someday!
 Caister's in your face!
 You're a big disgrace!
 Somebody's gotta' put ya back in your place!
 WE WILL, WE WILL ROCK YOU!

Top right: All of Caister show their spirit in the cheering competition!

CAISTER! CAISTER!
We're athletic! All the other houses are PATHETIC!

What can I say?
When you're this big they call you Caister-Mackenzie. This year was another year in the continuing saga of Caister-Mackenzie annihilations. We showed that we can run, we can play all sports and kill, and we can even think. YES, I say we are the true package of house spirit. Anyone who was stupid enough to take us on realized their insignificance. Next year will undoubtedly bring many more victories for the Burning Red.

See you next year.

We have always come out on top and the unconquerable Dereham-Fraser will undoubtedly stay there. To have a well-rounded house, you have to have well-rounded people. The people of Dereham-Fraser have both academic and athletic excellence as well as an insatiable house spirit that leads us to victory every time. We had a great year, guys!

24HR. FAMINE

The 24hr. Famine took place on February 26th and 27th. The Famine was organized by Emira Mears to raise money for the Street Kids International Fund. After 24 hours of fasting, the students enjoyed a feast of various foods donated by local establishments.

Top: Melissa Derry and Emira Mears breaking fast.
 Middle Right: What's left of the '24 hr. gang' celebrating. The rest passed out from hunger pains in the hallway.

It was really, really cold. But overall the trip was awesome. The bus ride up was a different story. After the pain and agony of a twelve hour bum-cramping ride and a Star Trek movie that put us all asleep, we were all ready to stay in Hope for the night. Finally we arrived, pumped to ski (or snowboard). With the comfort of hot chocolate as a refuge from the numbing cold, we made it through the week. Bravo to Mike Adams for his superb maneuvering skills on skis. His was the only accident, unfortunately. Otherwise, the trip was cool; thanks to the chaperones and others who made this trip possible.

Good-bye to Yusuke Kamata, Daiji Kenmochi, and Eiko Ooka. They have spent a happy three months here at G.N.S. as members of the Grade 10 class. When asked describe their stay, each replied:

Yusuke "I enjoyed school life. I would like to say thanks to my host family and friends. I hope to see you all again soon."

Daiji "I learned many important things from this exchange. It was an unforgettable experience. I will miss everybody. Thank-you. I really enjoyed it. See you someday, somewhere."

Eiko "Thank-you. I really enjoyed the three month exchange program. I liked Rugby very much."

Best of luck in the future and we hope you again.

EXCH

Seamus Wassman, Giordi Giacomelli and Jeremy Illingworth will be participating in a three month exchange with Setagaya-Gakuen in Japan. They leave March 27 and will return in June. Good-bye and good luck!

ANGES

Wir müssen alle aufwiedersehen sagen zu: Stefanie Kobialka, Caerleon Bridgman, Mike Fischer, and Tristan Carl. They left on March 21 and will stay with their exchange partners until June. Good-bye and viel Glück!

In September, G.N.S. welcomed five exchange students from Germany into Grade 10. Anne Baltschun, Caroline Farke, Ron Schumacher, Hannes Seidl, and Nicholas Guttman all quickly learned to adapt to our Canadian way of life. They left in November, and their Canadian partners are looking forward to seeing them again in Germany!

Congratulations to Kathy Dyer, Colin Curtis, and Jennifer Woodward! Kathy will be participating in an English Speaking Union Exchange in England. Colin and Jennifer have been accepted into the GAP Program and will be going to England as well.

PERSONAL HEROES: Scot Schmidt; Mickey Mouse; and the one and only Melvin

GNS may never be the same without this year's "chief babe" Meghan. When she's actually in this corner of the world, she can be found skiing, windsurfing, playing field hockey, running circles around us all, or talking 999/minutes about one of those activities. Meggo will be remembered for her escapades in the Active Sports mobile, incredible luck, inability to listen to reason, expressions, siblings, ability always to have fun, excellent musical taste, and those parties she still can't remember. May your luck never run out, Meg!

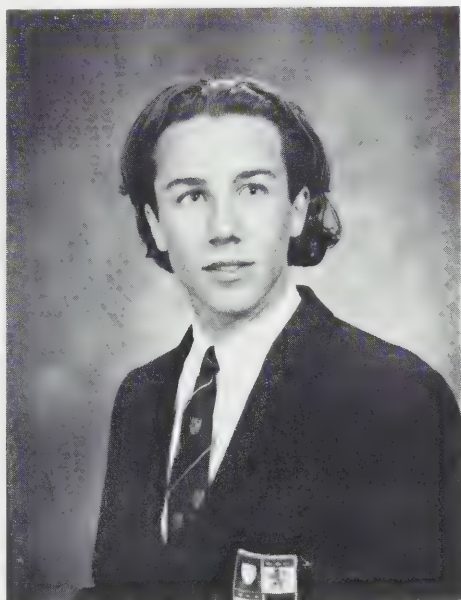

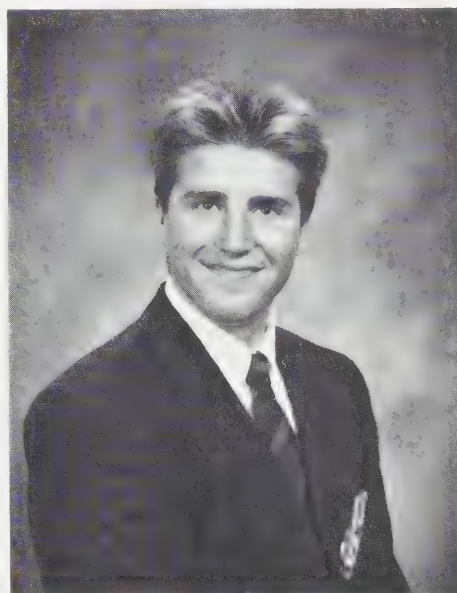

NAME: Deanna Bhandar

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Love is the strongest force the world possesses, and yet it is the humblest imaginable." Gandhi
PERSONAL HEROES: Bert and Ernie

Beennie will be best remembered for being lovable, teaseable, gullible. Out of all the grads, Deanna will be dearly missed for her politically correct beliefs, her excellent taste in music, and of course her wonderful laughter echoing through the halls of GNS. She is an active member of the field hockey team (wielding her incredible red socks) and a paramount leader of public affairs. She is always letting her views be known on Student Council. Our Beenner will not be easily forgotten. Keep on laughing Deanna - and remember we love you!

PERSONAL HERO: Paul "There is never too much wind" Elvestrom

Sean, Team Cannondale Rider, House Captain of Wymondham-Douglas, "Physics God," Extreme Sailor, has been at GNS for twelve years. When not searching for the ultimate adrenaline rush, Sean can be found with his loving girlfriend Kathleen whom he met in a computer lab. Sean can also be remembered for his female Disco dancing exploits, his meticulous cleaning of the cafeteria, and controversial calculus techniques. Next year Sean plans to study microbiology at any university that will a) accept him b) allow him to keep his bike in res., and c) have mountains and big bodies of water nearby. Good luck, Sean; we'll miss you!

NAME: Nicholas Peter Cairns
YEARS AT GNS: 1989-1993
HOUSE: Caister-Mackenzie
AMBITION: To be happy, rich, and well dressed PROBABLE DESTINY: Playing hockey in the Beer Leagues

 -Bob Marley
PERSONAL HEROES: Arnold Swartzenegger and my dad

Nick Cairns, 'AAA' stud player, will be best remembered for his quick reflexes and his flawless composure. He has evolved into a relaxed prep with a passion for overseas interests. You can always count on Nick for glory basketball plays and a vicious cutdown of his opponents. Nick's intense presence will be missed at GNS.

NAME: Frances Amy Campbell
YEARS AT GNS: 1985-1993
HOUSE: Dereham-Fraser
AMBITION: Business woman
PROBABLE DESTINY: Professional rug-fuzz picker
PET PEEVES: Warm telephones; losing my wallet; "Why don't you play hockey?" "Don't touch me, James!"
BEST MEMORIES: Junior School; climbing Ragged with Miss B and Megan; and "absent minded Katty," ski trip '90 with Papaya and Beenie; going to school with Nicole for 13 years; and my beau Ian.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Weekends are something to look forward to but not always to be remembered."
PERSONAL HERO: Maria Shriver

Lady Franny Eubanks of Omaha (a.k.a. Franny Fur trader) started off at Norfolk House in Grade 5, five days late. She is a dedicated Games Captain and an avid Track and Field member. The long-legged long jumper is capable of out jumping any man on the field. She also gave her all in the water for the swim team. Lastly, the Franerator will be remembered for her killer red, Freddie Kruger nails.

NAME: Jonathan C. Cook
HOUSE: Dereham-Fraser
AMBITION: Microbiologist or City Manager
PROBABLE DESTINY: Pro-wrestling Promoter or Commercial Fisherman
PET PEEVES: People who think pro-wrestling is fake, people who don't like country music, garlic breath, failing tests, femi-nazi dolphin-hugging enviro wackos

BEST MEMORIES: Robertson II in Gr. 10, Science Olympics, Biology class, Sean's biology jokes, back-to-back study halls, Gr. 11 cafeteria, career shadowing, Mud's assembly announcements, English 11
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: Try not to become a man of success but rather try to become a man of value - Albert Einstein
PERSONAL HERO(ES):

"Cook" as he is more commonly called came to us in Grade Seven from the smoggy shores of Los Angeles. In the past five years, Jonathan has shown to be a fierce individualist and a man of biting wit. He is dedicated to academic achievement and one of the last people in the class to obtain a driver's license. His off-the-wall humour and bottomless knowledge of the obscure, will be missed by all. but your earthquake-causing leg will not. Best of luck!

NAME: Colin James Curtis
YEARS AT GNS: 1981-1993
HOUSE: Caister-Mackenzie
AMBITION: To take over Ed McMahon's Star Search
PROBABLE DESTINY: Elvis impersonator
PET PEEVES: Compact cars; unmanageable hair; broken noses; speeding tickets; cleaning my car; mushrooms in my front yard; and no common room.

 "I'd make love to the cows 'til you came home, but I'd like to make love to you 'til the cows come home."
PERSONAL HEROES: Melvin; Mr. Miyagi and Eddie Evans

Colin, prop extraordinaire, will be remembered for six faithful years of rugger. His charming and staggering beauty are accented by his truly manageable hair and side burns that would make Luke Perry jealous! The Disco Boy, as he has been known, is this year's Junior School Liaison. Not only is Colin beautiful, but he can also parallel his boat mobile with the best of them. Elvis will be sorely missed in the corridors of GNS. Good luck and hugs and kisses. The Boys.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "The Serenity Prayer" - Sinead O'Connor
 "Do as I say, not as I do." - Michael Smith
PERSONAL HERO: Melvin (of course)

Wee Kathy has, over the years, become known as being fun and easy to bug. Katty can't figure out quite what it is, but people all over (even in South America) find someway to bug the 'bald-midget'! However this strong woman has accomplished much in her GNS career. She is a vivacious field hockey team member. Her smiling face and hilarious laugh will be missed. Stay Irish, sweetie!

NAME: Alexa Maya Geminiano

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "He (she) was small but mighty!" - Anonymous
PERSONAL HEROES: My dad; Woody; and MELVIN!

Maxima, as her closest buds call her, has graced the covers of more Oak Bay Star newspapers than any of us could ever imagine. And no wonder with that smile! Since her days in the Junior School, she has always been known as one of the littlest in her class. She may look cute and harmless, but that has never stopped her from achieving great heights. She'll be well remembered as the awesome queen of Science Fairs (who esle could win $ 11,000 in prizes including free trips to Japan, Hong Kong, and Thailand?!?) Her hopes for the future include attending a university in a big city and pursuing a career in, of course the sciences! Good luck, and keep smiling that colgate smile, Sexy Lexy!

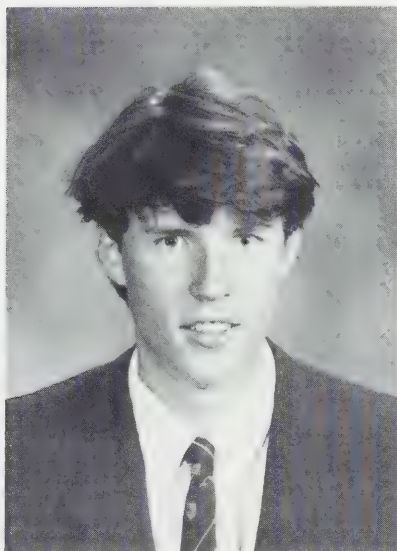

NAME: Jaswinder K. Gill
YEARS AT GNS: 1983-1993
HOUSE: Walsingham-Thompson
AMBITION: Psychiatrist
PROBABLE DESTINY: Living in a mental institution
PET PEEVES: People spelling my name wrong; assemblies; answering machines; warm chairs; clingers.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "If you love something set it free; if it comes back to you, it is yours. If it doesn't it wasn't meant to be."
PERSONAL HERO: My mommy

Jassy joined the prestigious institute of GNS in Grade 3. She has been, to the amazement of the students, the one and only person to hold the record of being the first person to school in the morning for 10 years straight! Besides being an avid Oilers' fan and a lover of Porsches, she enjoys long walks to school in the morning and a fresh pack of chocolate turtles. Stay healthy, Jassy-Passy. And may you one day, own a cherry red Porsche!

NAME: Tania Harsono
YEARS AT GNS: 1991-1993
HOUSE: Wymondom-Douglas
AMBITION: Banker

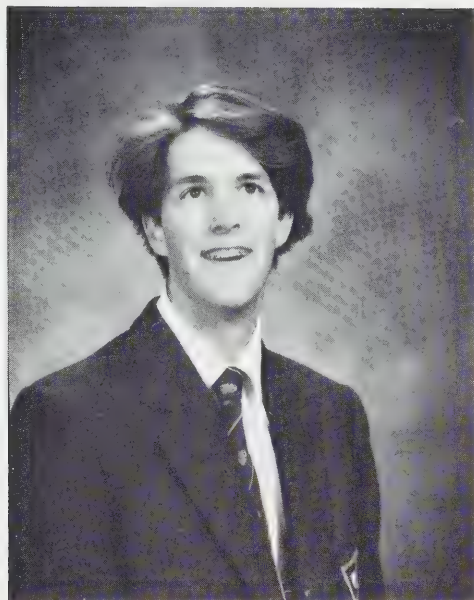

PROBABLE DESTINY: Dying from sapporo lehibar overdose
PET PEEVES: Dentists; injections; when people call me Alexa; when people ask me how I abused my car; how I manage to forget everything; Mondays
COMMON SAYINGS: "I am not Alexa," "Oh, ya!" "I hate Mondays," "I need my sleep!", "Do you know what time I went to bed last night?" "Oh dear!" "I forgot my ..."
BEST MEMORIES: Seeing snow for the first time, (Oct. '91); Western Civilization 12; Vancouver (summer '92); S.K.Y Club Concave '92; World Affairs Conference '92, (Toronto); watching Blue Jays win, sleeping in BIO class.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "If you board the wrong train, it is no use running along the corridor in the other direction." - Dietrich Bonho Effek, The Way to Freedom
PERSONAL HEROES: Sleepy from Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, my Dad, my Neh

On the day Tania arrived at GNS, she wasted no time in volunteering for virtually any job she possibly could. For the past two years she has played a leading role as treasurer of the Grad Committee, in Public Affairs, and in S.K.Y Club. Tania will be remembered at GNS for her sweet smile and good nature. She was always there for anyone needing help, or for someone to talk to (even though she did speak very fast!) We all wish her the best of luck in the future. Keep checking those blind spots, Tania!

NAME: Blake Henwood
YEARS AT GNS: 1981-1993
HOUSE: Caister-Mackenzie
AMBITION: To find an ambition
PROBABLE DESTINY: How should I know; I'm only a kid!
PET PEEVES: I don't like being run over by buses, or intestinal fungi
COMMON SAYINGS: "Can I borrow a pen?" "Please, ladies, there is only one of me!" "Next." "The funniest thing of all time!" "I know for a fact!"
BEST MEMORIES: Junior School; the Mental Machine gun; Sean falling through the fence; floor hockey; outweeks; ski trips; Colin's pig incident; hoppin' off the chair- HD, DT, CD; The Jackson 3; snowball fights; Snow White; all my pals.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "To see all the world in a grain of sand and a heaven in a wild flower. Hold infinity in the palm of your hand and eternity in an hour."
 - William Blake
PERSONAL HEROES: Ralph Ferly and Shaggy

Blake will be remembered as a happy-go-lucky kind of guy. His pièce de resistance was the relentless pursuit of humour that was admired by all. Tubby's swan-like gracefulness and athletic accomplishments can be summed up in one word... WOW! Blake's certain je ne sais quoi will be missed.

NAME: Jonathan Adrian Hunt
YEARS AT GNS: 1991-1993
HOUSE: (The Green Team!) Walsingham Thompson
AMBITION: Employable
PROBABLE DESTINY: Unemployable
PET PEEVES: Day 6; Gr. 9 art class, "Don't touch the music!"; bad hair days, hair cuts; whole school detentions; sarcastic cows-or was that just a dream?; windless Wednesday; surprises; losing my ambition and self-esteem
COMMON SAYINGS: "I'll just have to kill you later.", "Oh, well, that's life for you.", "What homework?", "Did I miss something?", "Am I late for Math?", "The Jays? They play baseball, right?", "I may not have a life, but I have a bike." "Absolutely wonderful."
BEST MEMORIES: The death of Mr. Matthews and physics thereafter; the Jays victory and parties that night; French- Je pense?; Chatham Island; squid; BIG mars bars; clay fights in art; sailing; 7-11; my bike - my life; Louie Louie's; Edmund's lack of food in fridge; black rooms; not knowing where I am, was, or will be; feeling fine; debating; deep thoughts like, "If people were made of cotton candy, I would be a cannibal."; rugby; Mrs. Diemer; having fun anytime of the year.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Stop messing with my mind." - Jen Woodward, Math 11
 "Liz" - Jeremy Smith
PERSONAL HEROES: Eeyore - a pessimistic donkey; Ralph - Outweek '91 Kayaking

Adrian is a die hard mountain biker with a distaste for learning. He has his extreme bad hair days. Adrian's fanatical fashion sense and Mars bar obsession will probably land him in jail. Oh well. Ride on, Adrian.

NAME: Megan Kathleen John
YEARS AT GNS: 1986-1991, 1992-1993
HOUSE: Dereham-Fraser, Wymondham-Douglas
AMBITION: Kindergarten Teacher
PROBABLE DESTINY: Forever in Mr. Britten's Home form
PET PEEVES: Taking the bus, warm chairs, warm telephones, moving, handouts that aren't hole punched, lack of heat in school, not having any gum
COMMON SAYINGS: What gum, Mr. Britten? Do you have any gum? Can I have a ride, I'm so dead. I think I'm going to fail. Je ne sais pas.
BEST MEMORIES: Gr. 8 Outweek ski trip with Mr. Independently Wealthy, Strathcona Grade 9, Grade 10 on the Robbie, Japan 1990, Fozzy, Gr. 8 "gang" movies, Being cheerleaders in Gr. 7 with Jessica, Fran and Nara, Gr. 9 Drama night, Inxs '91, Grade 9 French with Ryan, Fran, Nick and absent-minded Katty, Vick's parties, Science Gr. 8 with Scott, P.C. Retreat '92 in GH's truck, and P.E. classes with Fran FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Not all things are black and white, there are many shades of grey." "Why do today what you can put off until tomorrow?"
PERSONAL HERO(ES): My mom and dad as well as Winnie the Pooh

Mega Muffin arrived at GNS five months late for Grade Five and remained until Grade 10 when she took off to Vancouver to experience West Van High. Meggie Poo, a dedicated peer counsellor, has set many of us on the right track. She is a member of the track and field team despite sudden recurring injuries?! She is sure to prosper in all endeavours.

NAME: Nahoko Koizumi
YEARS AT GNS: 1990-1993
HOUSE: Wymondham-Douglas
AMBITION: To live on a tropical island
PROBABLE DESTINY: A waitress at a Japanese restaurant
PET PEEVES: Not being able to find the word that I really want to say.
COMMON SAYINGS: "Oh man!" "I have the test next!" "Yap!"
BEST MEMORIES: Sailing (grade 10); the first day of school; the last exam of each term; art class with Haroula; getting a ride from Vickie Raptis; E.S.L. classes; asking Tania questions about the homework and the tests.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "No money, no problem!"

-Charles Chaplin

PERSONAL HERO: Charles Chaplin

Nahoko came to GNS in April of 1990. A gentle-natured girl, with a great talent in drama, she is also a brilliant poet. She has been involved in a lot of activities in school, such as Public Affairs and Sky Club. Nahoko's sweet smile will always be remembered.

NAME: Charitini (Haroula) Koulelis

YEARS AT GNS: 1979 - 1993

HOUSE: Dereham - Fraser

AMBITION: To teach English in Greece and to marry some good-looking Greek dude

PROBABLE DESTINY: To open up a chain of Souvlaki Plus stores and have a big sign outside that says over 1 million served.

PET PEEVES: When rugby players spit; when people pronounce the silent "C" in Charitini; people who make fun of my height; George Michael put-downs; people who stop when they reach a "green" light.

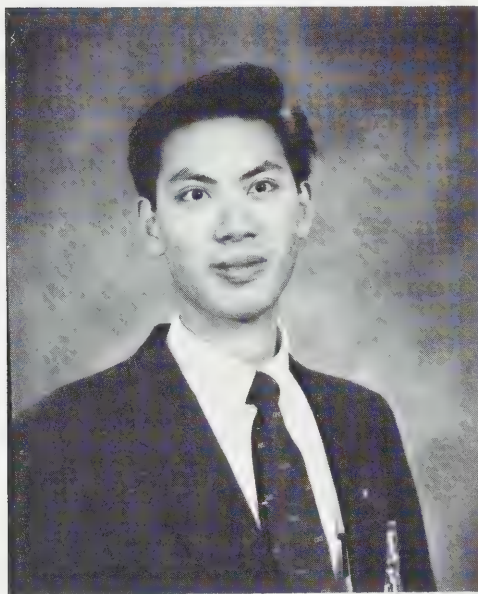

COMMON SAYINGS: "I'm starving. Can you hear my stomach growl?" "I'm sorry," "Short is chic!" "as if!" "Yes, I can see over the dash board!" "No I don't sit on any phone books while I drive!"

BEST MEMORIES: Grade 2 - the second time around; Grade 8 ski trip; English and History classes; France and Spain trip (long live Sangria!); going out for lunch with Vickie; Ashland, Oregon trip - I've never laughed so hard in my life; finally getting my driver's license; and watching Vickie check all my blind spots every time I turn.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Life's too 'short' to have enemies."

PERSONAL HEROES: George Michael; Napoleon - short but tough

Sweet "little" Haroula has been at the school since Grade 1. You're a lifer, Congratulations!! Haroula has been involved in activities such as choir, public affairs, and the school trip to France and Spain (long live Sangria!). Haroula will always be remembered for her quiet nature, sweet smile, cheerful attitude and her height. (Keep punching them in their knees, girl.) Haroula is always there for a person in need, and has always been an excellent friend. Good luck, Haroula, we'll miss you, and we wish you all the best.

NAME: Jong-Sau Leong

YEARS AT GNS: 1981-1993

HOUSE: Walsingham-Thompson

AMBITION: To race Indy cars and win international circuits/ A highly paid and successful doctor/ To enjoy what I do/CEO

PROBABLE DESTINY: Valet parking lot attendant at IBCB/A volunteer janitor/ Working 9-5 with a jerk for a boss/ Local convenience store owner-operator being robbed at gunpoint while cleaning clogged slushy machine.

PET PEEVES: Cheap schools; bad parking spots; Jeremy's enormous black bag; police cruisers; school life; drooling problems; the "Colwood Crawl"; being safe; bad hair days; selling food to whining kids, ugly shoes.

COMMON SAYINGS: "Hey, it's free!", "AHHHH!!!!", "This stinks, pal!", "I was going how fast officer?", "Yah right!", "Just kidding!"

BEST MEMORIES: Building sand forts in primary; destroying sand forts in primary; speeding tickets with L.F. and the gang; ski accidents on all school trips; super soaker fights; Strathcona; kayaking trips (Ralph & his problem); Adrian's trail mix; headmaster's office; Coquitlam; impromptu trips to Van; Managing the cafeteria; sneaking into school functions; Ms J's "goof-around-do-no-work-just-make-a-huge-mess-and-don't-clean-it-up" art classes; Mr. Scott's Socials exam; the milk walk; the Robbie.

FAVORITE QUOTATION: "About the only thing that comes to us without effort is old age."

PERSONAL HEROES: Tom Vu and his "hired" help; the wino on the corner of Yates and Blanshard (just kidding!); Eddie "the Eagle" Edwards; my parents (of course!)

Jong started his illustrious career at GNS in Grade 1. Little did he know that he would be stuck for another 11 years! With a stiff upper lip, he was ready to face the challenges of private education. He will be remembered for his conniving little money-making schemes for grad and the cafeteria. From short pants to long pants, small desks to rotten desks, and about a couple dozen teachers later, he will finally leave GNS, in pursuit of better things to come.

NAME: Edmund Leung

HOUSE: Walsingham - Thompson

AMBITION: Dentist living a decent life

PROBABLE DESTINY: Helsinke formula official tester

PET PEEVES: Monday mornings; hanging out with Mom and Dad; doing laundry; having to drive my Auntie around town every week

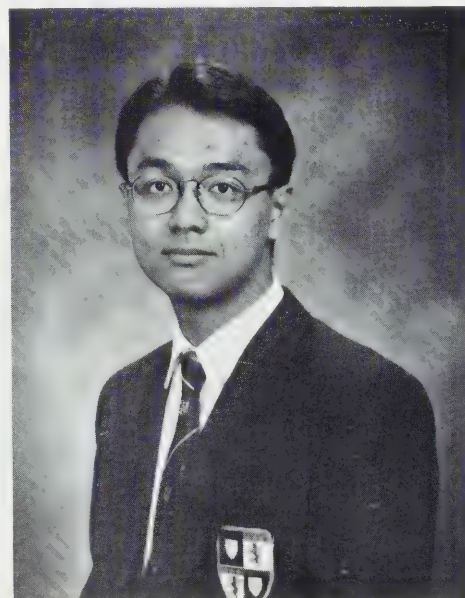

COMMON SAYINGS: "Hey guys, any spare food? I have no lunch today."

BEST MEMORIES: Sleepless nights; singing karaoke with friends; courageous 20-minute talk with Mrs. Wilson; Adrian's craziness about Mars bars; I once slit my wrist accidentally, making everyone think that I tried to commit suicide; asking my younger brother for help in Calculus; the trip to Vancouver with Vince and Jong; Grade 11 French classes with Mr. Tenger

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "I am happy with what I have."

PERSONAL HERO: My Uncle who doesn't have to work but still lives prosperously

He came from Hong Kong without warning and flooded the school with his great intelligence. Edmund had the amazing ability to make his inferiors actually feel like one of his equals. He also had a car (for those lunch hour trips to 7-11), a brother in Grade 11, and his own flat with absolute freedom.

NAME: Jonathan Charles Sherwood Marshall

YEARS AT GNS: Self-admitted lifer

HOUSE: Wymondham -Douglas

AMBITON: Key Grip (watch the credits some time!)

PROBABLE DESTINY: Struggling Nuclear Physicist (stuck in an elevator)

PET PEEVES: No mud; trolls; wrong colored lego; outies with lint; smurf bites; bonking; whitey tighties; nerd ties; badly placed trees; little kids that get big air flats

COMMON SAYINGS: "Arr Billy, have you seen the sea?", "knock skulls"

BEST MEMORIES: Cougs; cafeteria food fests; Hornby bike fests; deluxe models; speeding tickets with L.F.; Lindsey C and the crack; getting arrested; Fidel; the PLAN; Dave B's hawk; Hippy Flower lives; J.N. and his car; Eoin and the OJ; the skirt in calculus; daily acts of hodgepodge; Sausages; Japan; J.V. tweaking his bike every lunch; the "good old days"; Hornby: 2 km downhill after 9 km uphill; the first time we met; ski trips; rugby; the provincials

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Javi gave us a quick course on how to avoid death in the car he called 'the green bullet'. He explained that the passenger door opened from the inside, but not the outside. The driver's door opened from the outside but not the inside. The clutch needed a few pumps to take effect, and all the mirrors were busted. However the stereo worked." - B.S.

PERSONAL HERO: Vicky's husband and her trees

A sworn apocalyptic mountain biker until death, Mud Marshall has left his own imprint on GNS and in the mud on the rugby field. Jon has served a life-imposed sentence at GNS, and when he makes bail in June he plans to continue 'going nowhere fast' at an institution of higher education. Mud's nickname can be traced all the way back to Grade 1. If not for his great Games Captain announcements, we will always remember him for his huge bag. Good luck, Mud!

NAME: Richard H. Martin

YEARS AT GNS: 1988-1993

HOUSE: Dereham- Fraser

AMBITION: Architect

PROBABLE DESTINY: Oh, probably just a nuclear engineer

PET PEEVES: School; bad haircuts; nausea; people who call me "Dick"; warm brews; mornings; "mpeh"; irregularity and having my picture taken

COMMON SAYINGS: "You're nuts!" "Who's a loser?" "Shuuuuud uup!" "Ppppphhett!" "Imma go off!" "Paper me!" "Don't mess!" "Preach on."

BEST MEMORIES: All ski trips; all Outweeks, especially the Robertson; rugby and the Provincials; Vicki's parties; Rasool's bacon incident; Japan trip; Silly Buggers; James' lake parties; cafeteria with M.W; hustling R.R and L.A; Rasool's driving; drive-by super-soaking; Grade 8 and 9 basketball; Red's; choir and choir festivals; some dances; hangin' and partying with all my buds; and art.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "It's freezing outside! I got Jack Frost nipping at my nose, so let's get Joe Beer biting at my liver!"

- Norm Peterson

PERSONAL HEROES: Eric Clapton; Sam Malone; Cindy Crawford and Phil Hartman.

Richie, a man of many words, can be seen running wildly across the rugby field, shooting a 3 pointer or sinking that hole in one. Marty always has words to brighten the mood. Dick will be remembered best for his zany and unique humour, his brilliant sense of fashion, and his taste in women. Rich's pleasant smile and extremely soft hair will be sorely missed in the annals of GNS history. You're the man, Rich!

NAME: Sarah Lucy Matthew

YEARS AT GNS: 1992-1993

HOUSE: Wymondham-Douglas

AMBITION: A well-known doctor

PROBABLE DESTINY: Mopping floors in a hospital on an output of Nfld.

PET PEEVES: People who make fun of Newfoundland; people who walk on the wrong side of the stairs

COMMON SAYINGS: "I don't understand!" "No way!" "Yes buddy." "How are ya?" "cool!" "Fight on!"

BEST MEMORIES: My first time rowing on Elk Lake (with skulls)- right Emira, Sarah? Cleaning up the cafeteria at lunch time; walking to 7-11 with Jenn and Jas.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, and believe in them, and try to follow where they lead."

- L. M. Alcott

PERSONAL HEROES: Winnie the Pooh and Tigger too, and Melvin

Sarah Matthew, our one and only Neufie! We'll never forget her perplexed looks as she became acquainted with our GNS family. We'll always remember her bubbly laugh and great smile. She was a fish in the water, and an angel on land with her involvement in public affairs. Keep smiling, sweetie!

NAME: Emira Alice Louise Mears
YEARS AT GNS: 1988-1993
HOUSE: Walsingham- Thompson
AMBITION: Biochemist
PROBABLE DESTINY: Replacing Mrs. Jenkins in English and Yearbook
PET PEEVES: The End posers; people who can't say my name (Elvira); HPU; The Q; trolls; red peppers; being hit on the head with hammers.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act in the spirit of Brotherhood." International Bill of Human Rights
PERSONAL HEROES: Lavonne and Melvin (who else)

Elmira, sorry, I mean Emira, has graced the halls of GNS since her arrival in Gr. 8. Mind you we only caught glimpses of her as she flew from meeting to meeting. With Amesty, Drama, Student Council and Yearbook (to name a few!), Emira has mastered the art of being in six places at one time. The lure of those darn cute rowing coaches was enough to convince her to carry on GNS' tradition of having mighty Gr. 12 rowing women! Her goals for her final year include educating us all on the subject of alternative music and introducing spamburger days. Good luck, babe! Remember: Go big or go home!

NAME: John O'Shaughnessy
YEARS AT GNS: 1990-1993
HOUSE: Wymondham-Douglas
AMBITION: Pilot
PROBABLE DESTINY: Grounded
PET PEEVES: 90210 freaks, cat lover cats, Melvin haters, people who don't know Melvin, Where's Waldo?, bumchins.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint,"

- Isaiah 40:31

PERSONAL HERO: Melvin, Dennis, Conner, Vicki, The A&W rootbeer kid.

John would most like to be remembered for his charm, good looks, and modesty. But he will probably be remembered for his exceptional sailing ability, his never dying love for the Oilers, his (closeted) devotion to the Barenaked Ladies and his flowing red hair envied by all. Although he is unsure of where his travels will lead him, I am sure that he will be happy in whatever he does, even if it is just sitting around watching his hair grow.

NAME: Vasileke (Vickie) Raptis
YEARS AT GNS: 1988-1993
HOUSE: Dereham-Fraser
AMBITION: To marry someone tall, dark, handsome, and rich, and to be successful
PROBABLE DESTINY: To sell popcorn and own a 24-hr restaurant forever!
PET PEEVES: Nosy people; slow drivers; people who don't check their blind spots; hypocrites; little ticking noises; policemen; working at the Odeon, and Canadian summers.
COMMON SAYINGS: "Have you seen Haroula?" "I wanna go back to Greece!!!" "Just kidding!" "ya right!!!" "well..." "oh my God...I'm going to fail!!!"
BEST MEMORIES: Latin 9,10 and 11; (Bunny); France and Spain trip (long live Sangria); Provincial Debating Tournament in Vancouver, in Grade 10...; Ashland, Oregon (Mrs. Jenkins driving...); Japan '90; Grade 8 ski trip; sailing on the Pacific Swift in Grade 11; partying with my friends; Mrs. Diemer's Chem 11 classes; Greece '90 and '92; walking with Haroula, and the Public Speaking Competition in Ontario.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "What another would have done as well as you, do not do it. What another would have said as well as you, do not say it; written as well, do not write it. Be faithful to that which exists nowhere but in yourself- and thus make yourself indispensable."
PERSONAL HEROES: My Auntie Janet and Uncle George, and my parents.

Vickie has been at GNS since Grade 8, and has contributed much of her time and effort to academics and co-curricular activities. She is an excellent public speaker, actress, athlete, debater, and peer counsellor. She is the most caring friend a person could have; and if you ever need a good lawyer, she'll be the one to call. "Bobo" is forever selling popcorn at the Odeon, with her little bow tie. Enjoy your candy apple red car, and have fun in Greece! Good luck in life, Vic!

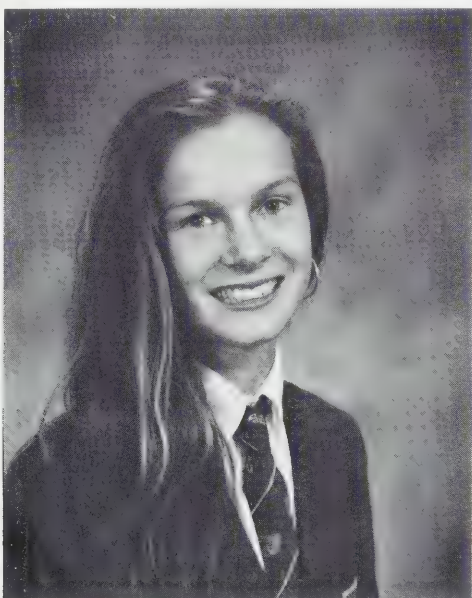

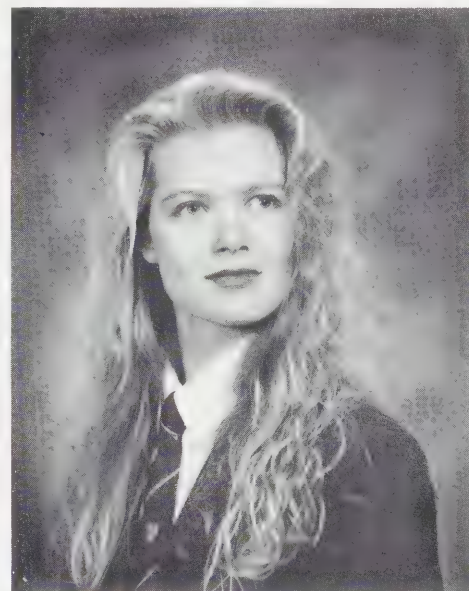

NAME: Rasool Naz Rayani
YEARS AT GNS: 1981-1993
HOUSE: Caister-Mackenzie
AMBITION: Indy 500 Winner
PROBABLE DESTINY: Hair care and style specialist
PET PEEVES: Girls with BO; boys with BO; teachers with BO; "Oh my god!"; "You're joking!"; "but why?"; Henry, from Cheers; stupid people; flats

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "If you were to drink soda from a coffee cup, could you still conceivably call it a coffee cup?"
 -Lowell, from Wings
PERSONAL HEROES: Eric Clapton; Pa (Mom too!); The Big Guy and Sam

Rasool, brown boy extraordinaire, will be remembered by his classmates for his brilliant and witty charm. On the rugby field, no one can match Roo's mean grubber. In the classroom, I often wonder if Rasool's voluminous vocabulary confused the teachers as much as it confused me. No member of the Jr. Boys Basketball team will ever forget Roo's first points. Nor will the grade 12 guys forget Rasool's first experience with bacon. And there will always be those little things that make Rasool, Rasool, like his lethal stubble, cast-iron hair, reckless driving, and his touch of soul that is only seen on the dance floor. He will be sorely missed by the GNS women!

NAME: Tracey Creigh Russell
YEARS AT GNS: 1988-1993
HOUSE: Walsingham-Thompson
AMBITION: Financial independence
PROBABLE DESTINY: To marry into wealth
PET PEEVES: Creatures with two faces, those who give me an inferiority complex, trolls and Joe Schnooks
COMMON SAYINGS: "Gabillion"; "shhhhh!" "ya, whatever!" "I'm ready for bed!" "Where are my papaya enzymes?"
BEST MEMORIES: M.M.; The Swift; "Breakout"; "Fiddler"; Vicki's house in Grade 8; Nov. 2, 1990; "Sweet Transvestite"; black doors; ski trip in Grade 8; being boy-friendless in Grade 8; Kiwis (worst memory); tupperware and having tea with Emira.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "It's easier to put on slippers than to carpet the world."
 - Stuart Smally
PERSONAL HEROES: My dog, Dylan, and Melvin.

Trace ventured into GNS in Grade 8 and since then has amazed us all with her perfect spelling, her ability always to look good in school pictures, her extended family, her hot tub with bath toys in it, and her way of interpreting anything we say into her own, somewhat perverse meaning. If you listen closely, you can still hear echoes of her performance as Chava in Fiddler ringing through the PAC. We'll never forget you or your laugh, Trace; shine on, you crazy diamond.

NAME: Toni Leigh Scott
YEARS AT GNS: 1981-1993
HOUSE: Walsingham-Thompson
AMBITION: To be a diplomat or a lawyer
PROBABLE DESTINY: To be a lifer at Thrifty's
PET PEEVES: Mornings, uniforms, exams, feeling of déjà vu, busy phone lines, buses, height jokes, not having a car or licence, the colour green, and red hair.
COMMON SAYINGS: "Would you like paper or plastic?"; "Oh, well!"; "How many more days till the weekend?"; "How long till we're outta here?"; "I dunno."; "Oh, baby!"; "How's it goin'?" "What are we going to do?"
BEST MEMORIES: Japan exchange, Africa, the Robbie, Strathcona, Ski Trip in Grade 8, Junior School, Henrietta the hen, chocolate grasshoppers, potato day, Yearbook, Tom Sawyer, Miracle Worker, scuba diving, World Series 1992, Lollapalooza, Sugar Plums, Expo '86, Summer 1992 with Boo and the gang, the floor next to the fridge, U2 with S.G. and J.P., Japanese with N.S., C.D. and J.C., and all my friends.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "I get by with a little help from my friends."
 -The Beatles
PERSONAL HEROES: My Mom, Mickey Mouse, and Melvin

Toni's been at this school for almost as long as the sky's been blue! Don't be fooled by her petite and unimposing physique. This is one loud (in a good way!) and commanding woman! She's proved her powers by working every night as the speediest of all check out girls, continuing to pull off good marks and still finding time to work in a party or two. Quite the hectic schedule. Toe-knee will be remembered for taking off for at least three months every year to such places as Africa and Japan, and still never losing track of all the GNS gossip. Good luck, Tonsillitis!

NAME: Victoria Claire Scott
YEARS AT GNS: 1980-1993 (13 years!)
HOUSE: Caister-Mackenzie
AMBITION: Interior designer
PROBABLE DESTINY: Cleaning up after my parties
PET PEEVES: Having parties; cleaning up after my parties; Dude man!; cold feet; smurf bites; rugby talk; parents' friends and being downtown in Vancouver.
COMMON SAYINGS: "You're crazy!" "Everyone is so strange," "Party at my house this Friday!" "What's up with that?" "I'm stressed!" "Stay off the pipe, by M.D."
BEST MEMORIES: All ski trips; eating chocolate grasshoppers in Gr. 2; the clubs in the Junior School; all the good times at my house with everyone; 6:00am strolls down to Willows Beach; my friends; Lollapalooza '92; full moon over Silverstar; jello; all Outweeks; concerts in Gr. 9; downtown Vancouver with Nara; parties at the Todd's lake; Ariel's house; Moses and God; James' car; dinners at Wee's Tacky Tavern on Clive Drive; Indian Soap Dancers; thinking we were so cool in Grade 8, and, JB, MD, RB, LY, DV, EC, AV, JT, RT, JR, JO, CC, KD, RM, MS, NM, BV, JM, DW, KS, DB, RR, and MO.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Good friends we have, good friends we've lost along the way. In this bright future we can't forget our past."
 - Bob Marley
PERSONAL HEROES: Melvin; my friends and family and Jim Morrison

Vicki has graced our school since Grade 1, where she enjoyed herself so much she decided to stay for a second year, and if she had it her way, she would still be there. We all know how much she loves nap time and total lack of responsibility. Vicki's legacy to the school will be relief from many otherwise boring Friday nights. T.G.I.F eh Vic? Vic's parties are the epitome of Vic. The essence of playful abandonment poignantly expresses Victoria's nature. Her beauty is covered by a kind heart. Vicki's red hair and green glasses depict her controversial sense of conflict and the desire to be different. Vicki has an incredible flair for involving herself with the most twisted men; she has an affinity, it seems, for the name Jason. Live long and prosper, Vic, and good luck in whatever you do in life. So, Vicki, when's your next party!?

NAME: Mya Jane Sellgren
YEARS AT GNS: 1988 - 1993
HOUSE: Walsingham - Thompson (the best!!)
AMBITION: To be a famous woman in science
PROBABLE DESTINY: First woman World Cup soccer player
PET PEEVES: Picture day; vanilla ice cream that tastes like the carton; taking the bus; Joves; people who say I look like Blossom; male drivers; advance green lights; "cereal, no bowl", people who meeps; and trolls
COMMON SAYINGS: "Cool, cool," "I don't understand it either, Alexa!" "I'm gonna fail," "Tcha right," "that is so nuts," "there is nothing to do in Victoria."
BEST MEMORIES: Causewaying with Emira; all of Vicki's parties; beep-beep vroom-vrooming with Meg; the Robbie; ski trip '90 with Franny; McD's after Lollapalooza with Nicki; Bowling; getting 22 U2 tickets; watching the Jays win; Swift with Narwhale in the summer; trips to Vancouver with the B-ball team; Mr. Scott's exams; last night; Jockey dipping; Chem labs with Sexy Lexy; hanging out with Stace; and generally living it up
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Does your dog bite?" "No." "Your dog is biting my leg." "Zat is not my dog." - Inspector Clouseau
PERSONAL HEROES: Ranger Dave; my bro; and, the infamous Melvin

When Mya Papaya came to GNS in Grade 8, I instantly disliked her. Why then, you ask, am I writing this? Because I soon discovered she is one of the greatest human beings ever to have come into existence. This girl has a knack for staying out of trouble and coming across as innocent. 'Tcha, right, if only everyone knew the truth (tee hee)! It's a good thing you made me promise not to tell anyone your parents called you SNOODLES when you were young, or it might have accidentally slipped out when I wasn't thinking. Stay you, kid. Everything in life happens for a good reason. Remember that, and you'll go far. Complete happiness is my wish for you, Mya, because you deserve it. HAPPY GRAD! P.S. Will you ever learn how to chew gum in class without getting caught every single time.

NAME: Jessica Monika Semmens
YEARS AT GNS: 1985-1993
HOUSE: Dereham-Fraser
AMBITION: To become filthy rich doing something I love
PROBABLE DESTINY: Tying slipknots for nude bungee jumpers
PET PEEVES: The Beach Boys; El Caminos; unpunched handouts; graduating in a class of 41; blondes who take blonde jokes seriously; guys who spit COMMON SAYINGS: "I DON'T get this!" "Man oh Man!" "Get off me, James!"
BEST MEMORIES: Alex's blisters at Strathcona in Grade 9; Robbie, Grade 10; Physics 11 with Kathy; thinking we were so cool in Grade 8; The Gym Club in Junior School; Grade 5 with Mr. Blake; N.P.C.; The Blue Jays victory "parade"; Vicki's parties; last night; Susan's spontaneous opera outbursts; French with Madame de Marquez; Sara's teacher impressions FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Individuals with clenched fists cannot shake hands."
PERSONAL HEROES: Madonna; and my parents

Step to it, Jess! The aerobics wonderwoman has high impact and high intensity! She will be remembered for her blonde locks and shrieking laugh. Messy Jessy has been involved in everything from field hockey to track and field. Jessica will succeed in whatever she does in the future. Best of luck with life, cutie! You deserve the best!

NAME: Nicole Rebecca Seminiuk

YEARS AT GNS: 1985-1993

HOUSE: Dereham - Fraser

AMBITION: Pearl Jam's record producer and video director

PROBABLE DESTINY: Change room manager of Women's Active Wear at The Bay

PET PEEVES: Sioux - zen's sudden opera singing outbursts; Mike's chin hickies; Nuffy's doughnuts; car accidents; Washington drivers

COMMON SAYINGS: "Does the word 'Duh' mean anything to you?" "Excuse me, I'd like to get by now." "I think I'm dying," "Score!" "ROAR!"

BEST MEMORIES: Exchange to Japan with D.B. - '91; Robbie - 2 Gr. 10; death threats from Mr. B - Gr. 5; Lollapalooza with Mya - '92; BIO classes in Grade 10 with Sara Jones; ski trips; ToeJam; "Money"; smarties in Lit class; A.R.; Garth Homer; Ator the Blademaster; Japanese classes with T.S. C.D. and J.C.; making Blair laugh in assemblies; scouting for babes with Jessica; Tom Sawyer; "Susan - Fran!"; RHCP with Sioux; Nicki and Fran - 13 years together and we've never had a fight!

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Friends should be preferred to Kings" - Voltaire
"I got friends in low places" - Garth Brooks

PERSONAL HEROES: Melvin (Duh!); Elmira from Tiny Toons; my family and friends - each of whom I admire.

Nicki will be remembered for her goal to become a famous director or record producer. Her ultimate goal is to produce Pearl Jam's next record and do all their videos. She will also be remembered for her willingness to share smarties in Lit class. The chick with the "pink" bangs is an awesome member of the Bay High School Council and House Captain extraordinaire of Dereham - Fraser. Although she has no luck with cars, I'm sure she will remember Gr. 12 with a smile (as pitter-patter goes her heart) Andrew entered her life (and ours). Watch out for Nicki's infamous driving! And Nicki don't forget, JUMP THERE'S A BOMB ON THE BOAT!

NAME: Jeremy Smith

YEARS AT GNS: 1981-1993

HOUSE: Caister-Mackenzie

AMBITION: Wealthy businessman/Jaguar owner

PROBABLE DESTINY: Poor sailing instructor/1975 Chevrolet and Nova owner

PET PEEVES: Normal people, "brainchildren", unruly hair, windless days, female chauvinist pigs

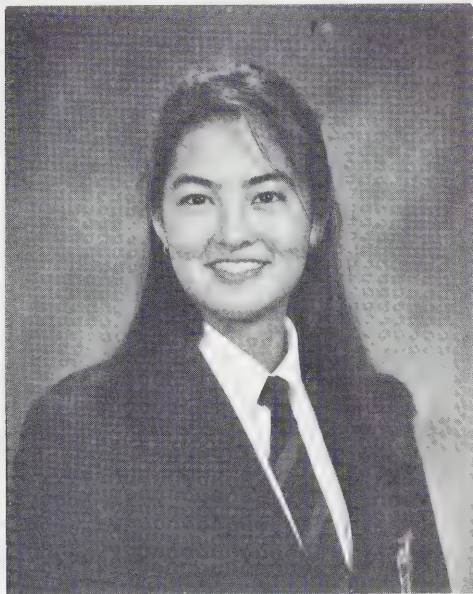

COMMON SAYINGS: "Problem child," "Sick child," "brain child," "freak of nature," "freak", "I'd rather be sailing," "Why am I here?" Uncommon saying: "I'm on time!"

BEST MEMORIES: Building dams on the beach at Glenlyon; learning sailing at Glenlyon; Dr. Johnson's Socials 8 class; Canada Wide Science Fair in Newfoundland; ski trip in Grade 8; late night drama work (just kidding); Mr. Scott's exams; Pacific Swift; lack of P.E. in Grade 12; after school sailing; teaching sailing at Glenlyon

FAVOURITE QUOTATIONS: "There is nothing, absolutely nothing, quite so wonderful as simply messing about in boats" - Kenneth Graham

PERSONAL HEROES: Donald Trump; Dennis Conner

Jeremy will be remembered by GNS for three main reasons: his love for sailing, his great black bag of tricks (otherwise known as the bottomless black bag), and his work in technical drama. Studies show that Jeremy only sails once a year. We find he most enjoys socializing in the clubhouse and teaching from the warm, dry motor boat! As far as his great black bag goes, it has not failed yet to contain the latest in technological toys, never forgetting, of course, his lap-top computer. Finally, Jeremy will live on at GNS for all his work on technical drama. He has been involved in nearly all productions. We know one thing: he will leave Victoria A.S.A.P.

NAME: Kathleen Diane Sun

YEARS AT GNS: 1988-1993

HOUSE: Caister-Mackenzie

AMBITION: To be happy and independent

PROBABLE DESTINY: Miserably moving home at 30

PET PEEVES: Having no proprioception in my left ankle, causing me to continuously injure it.

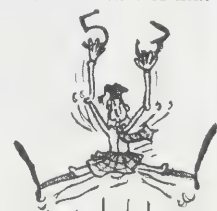

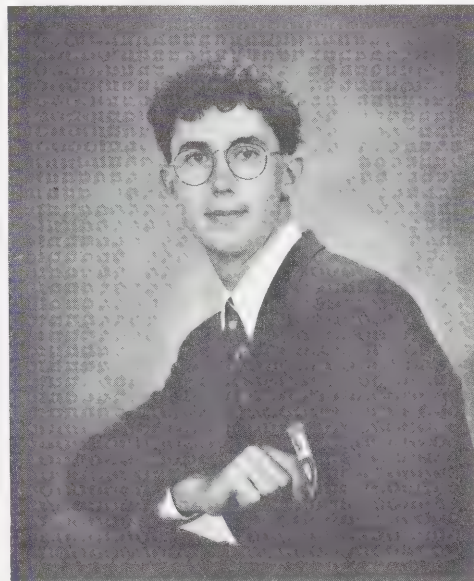

COMMON SAYINGS: "No problem!" "Not very likely," "That's the most 'hilarious' thing I have ever heard in my life!" "Huh, what? Could you say that again, please?"

BEST MEMORIES: Ski trips; Jr. Girls basketball with D.J.; Japan '90; Woody putting my tent in a tree at Carmanah; Jockey Dipper; English 10 with Sean (where it all began); West Coast Trail '90; poetry with Jen; Kelly Balayly just 'cause she's swell; Bermuda '92; my 18th birthday; hockey with A.J. and the team, Castlegar Provincials, eating mercury with MTF; James' year end parties; U2; dinner at Kathy's; Grads '91, '92; 95°, garlic butter, elevators and all the rest with Risha; French classes; P.N.E. with Deanna; all the great times I've had with Sylvie, Arthur, Mimi and Liam; and my best friend Sean.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Things turn out best for those people who make the best of the way things turn out" - Art Linkletter

PERSONAL HERO(ES):

What is up with Kathleen's ankle? (It might have something to do with the mercury in the popcorn.) Even maimed, she was an invaluable member and loyal captain of the women's field hockey team. Kathleen will be remembered for her amazing ability to fall asleep anywhere (French, English, the Pixies Concert), her sudden fits of laughter and always bumming lunches (we still love ya, babe!) Good luck and take care of that ankle!

NAME: James Aaron Wake (Golby III) Todd

HOUSE: Dereham-Fraser

AMBITION: Cultural icon whose whole personal life is newsworthy

PROBABLE DESTINY: To have a laboratory accident and be like Spiderman

PET PEEVES: Being grounded, car trouble, porsche jokes, hyper girls, girls in general

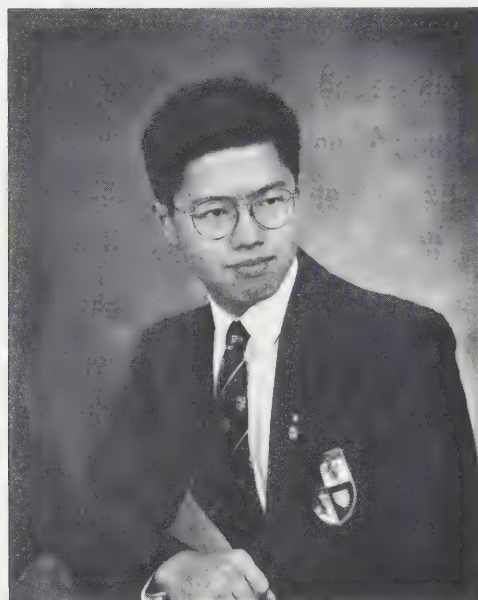

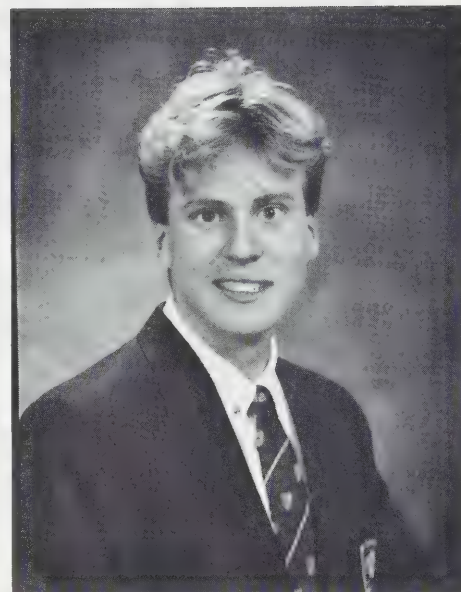

COMMON SAYINGS: "Why yes, I am wearing bugle boy jeans," "Yes, I am the protagonist of this performance," "No, I'm always this way, FEH!!"

BEST MEMORIES: Public humiliation from Grades 1 through 12; all the ski trips; fighting with Charlotte; first steps as an innocent child and holding a delicate rose in wonder for the first time; Vicki's house; the good times in my car; G.B. with the boys (M.O.E.C., D.T., M.W., J.T.); homeroom with Deathbird; LUV

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: I'm Batman

PERSONAL HERO(ES): All Superheroes ever; Eric Clapton

James Todd hopes to be remembered at GNS by one day in the school year when no one wears pants or kilts.

NAME: Christopher Kar-Long Wong

YEARS AT GNS: 1990-1993

HOUSE: Wymondham-Douglas

AMBITION: A scientist of some sort

PROBABLE DESTINY: A math tutor

PET PEEVES: Low marks, small lockers, being "super soaker"ed, CNML, making drama programs, "Match Maker" result

COMMON SAYINGS: "Oh! What am I doing?" "Come on, you can do it." "Go Jays go!"

BEST MEMORIES: Grade 10 outweek, Mr. Hockley's photography class, school dances, Yearbook conference, first "B" term mark in English, chemistry classes (and my lab partner, J. Cook), Badminton tournaments, badminton club, Jr. Basketball team, Grade 12, Physics 12 problems, Island Basketball camp.

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Just shut up and paste it! would you?"

- Jeremy Smith, Yearbook Computer Department

PERSONAL HERO(ES): Bugs Bunny, Magic Johnson

Chris has definitely left his impression upon GNS. Whether it is wrecking the grade curve in Calculus or Physics or completely obliterating his opponents on the badminton court, his presence will be remembered. Chris is also known for his extreme computer science skills and he plans to include this and badminton in his future career. Wherever Chris goes, his odd sense of humour and fetish for differentiation between positive and negative numbers will make life for those around him interesting. Good luck, Chris!

NAME: Jennifer Gaea Woodward

YEARS AT GNS: 1989 - 1993

HOUSE: Dereham - Fraser (YAHOOEE!)

AMBITION: Lawyer extraordinaire

PROBABLE DESTINY: Losing the alumni Trivia Cup for many years to come

PET PEEVES: Constantly hurting myself; ambulances; hospitals, weird pupils; 1 month and 5 days

COMMON SAYINGS: "Hard - core," "harsh," "brutal," "Let me tell you something!" "Wholly crowly," "AHH...I see," "Doo doo occurs big time!" "Oh tee hee!" "GRRRRH!" "Oh yah...well I'm a prefect!"

BEST MEMORIES: J.T.; my surprise birthday party; Strathcona; Pacific Swift; being married in Ashland; Sky Club conclave; Vicki's house; NORTHERN COMFORT!; early morning walks with Jas; staying alive with Nicki; making Emira pass out!; Latin class!; debating with Christian in Vancouver; skinny dipping with Stefanie; green M and M's; sprite McChickens; Camp Thunderbird; Elvis; Tea talks with D.B.; West Coast trail with Meghan, Kathleen, Colin, James, and Mr. Kirby; Lora's going away party; English with Mr. Brooks; Chem class; bus rides with Cand D; hugs from Tony G.; Twin Peaks; everyone else

FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "With all its sham, drudgery, and broken dreams - it is still a beautiful world." - Desiderata

"It's not easy being green!" - Kermit the Frog

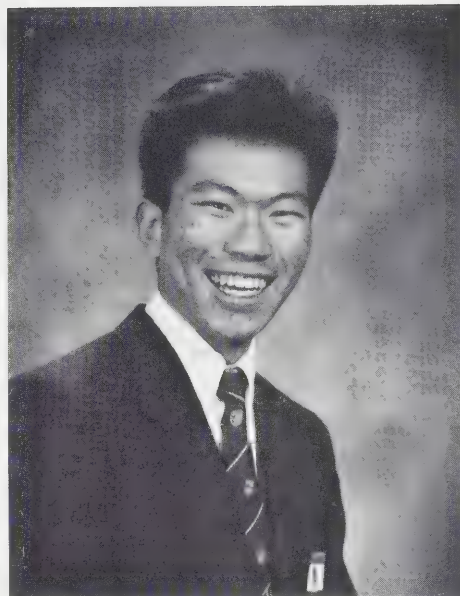

PERSONAL HEROES: My Mommy; Anne of Green Gables; Agent Dale Cooper

Jenn.....what is there to say about her that we don't already know? She's an incredible school leader (Community Service Prefect, and Sky Club pres.); she's a wild woman full of energy, and she's a great friend. Jen, often known as Janvier or Benny, will surely be remembered for her outstanding public speaking and debating abilities; for her camp songs, that I'm sure everyone knows at least a verse of the thousands that she knows. "Stay Alive" forever, Jenn.

NAME: Vincent Wu
YEARS AT GNS: 1991-1993
HOUSE: Walsingham-Thompson
AMBITION; An accountant who plays tennis every morning
PROBABLE DESTINY: Coach of John McEnroe when he turns 50
PET PEEVES: Computer programs; English essays; J. Cook shaking his leg; "someone's" quick tongue; the provincial exams.
COMMON SAYINGS: "Ha, ha, ha!" "What? Do we have a test today?" "Weee!!" "Is it due today?" "Who cares? It's not my business."
BEST MEMORIES: Ski trip '91; first announcement in the assembly; Mrs. Diemer's chemistry class; spring break party in Mike Stricker's house; tracing and shooting a white Mercedes with the super-soaker, with Jong, Mud, Eddy and Westly; tennis tournament; night trip from Richmond to Coquitlam at 1:00am with Jong and Edmund.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "It's hard to say goodbye to yesterday."
PERSONAL HEROES: Michael Chang and Scottie Pippen

Vincent came to us two years ago. He was always wearing a smiling face to school and being active in class (talkative, especially in Chem and Math). However, it's the last year to see his shining teeth. Go, Vinni!!

NAME: Susan Margaret Young
YEARS AT GNS: 1983-1993

HOUSE: Caister-Mackenzie!!! Of course!!!

AMBITION: Archaeologist, Costume Designer, Immortal

PROBABLE DESTINY: Vegetarian vampire with no fashion sense

PET PEEVES: Risk; people who don't like Hallowe'en; heads (on the Robbie); being on time; snoring; crushes; SKUNKS; Black Alabama snakes; "oh boy, guys!"; The Tomahawk Chop; HMWK.

COMMON SAYINGS: "What are you doing?"; "Will you marry me?"; "Roar!"; "Go blue...I mean white...whatever!"; "Laa!"; "Ahh Maan!"; "I like to play".

BEST MEMORIES: Swim club Gr.5 and up; Tom Sawyer; Gr.7 dances; holding hands in Gr.8; Hallowe'en; Bermuda; Tennis Tourney '88; Ator the Blademaster, flatlining with Elizabeth in Winnipeg; C.T.B.; Robertson II in Gr.10; Emira and her Perverted Bees; Halifax '89 with Joy; vamping out, Thetis Lake with Pitoff, Demos, and Ryan; operas by Sioux-zen; hot tub talks with Kathy etc.; Gr.11 Physics with the Adams family; "She's my handsome memory"; Blue Jays 1992 World Champs; Tulsa and Parker; Pepper Pepper Pepper; Mr. Kirby; Depression skits; and The Boyfriend.

-Robin Hood

PERSONAL HEROES: Catwoman; my parents; Ralph (Don't touch my boat!); and Melvin...just because.

Sioux-zen, GNS's own Buffy the Vampire Slayer, will be known for her love of Robin Hood and C.T.B. (is there a link between the two?!). She is the most excellent house captain of Caister-Mackenzie and the girl of the Voluminous Golden Mane. Not only does she have a passion for horses, but whether it be operas or hard rock, her voice can be heard constantly, ringing through the halls. I suggest that you get her autograph now, in highschool, because she is going to be famous one day! Honest!

NAME: Sarah Yuile
YEARS AT GNS: 1981-1993
HOUSE: Caister- Mackenzie
AMBITION: Eventually, to get a driver's licence
PROBABLE DESTINY: World famous physicist
PET PEEVES: Cleaning tables; mopping floors; loading dishwashers; unloading trays; whining tourists; the morbid tomahawk chop.
COMMON SAYINGS: "Roses are red, violets are blue, I'm schizophrenic and so am I"
BEST MEMORIES: Conclave '91; Robbie; ski trip; Bermuda; chocolate grasshoppers; "winging it"; Charlie and the Chocolate Factory; rowing at Elk Lake; Grade 5 crazies; Olympics of the Mind; Photography; "Thing" in physics; the Ump; flower; the fountain at the Eaton's Center; Expo '86; Yearbook; bowling with fruit and golfing.
FAVOURITE QUOTATION: "Don't take life too seriously, you never come out of it alive anyway!"
PERSONAL HEROES: John Cleese, Ted Le Peu and Melvin

Yuilee, as she is known by her buds, is known for her sometimes dazed presence. Sarah's days at GNS have come to an end, but I do think that 12 years are enough! She was a dedicated field hockey player. She will never forget her infamous Physics classes with Susan, eating grasshoppers in Grade 2, and her days at Murchies. We'll miss you, Yuilee (sung in harmony)... Keep up the ice-tea making.

Camp Narnia

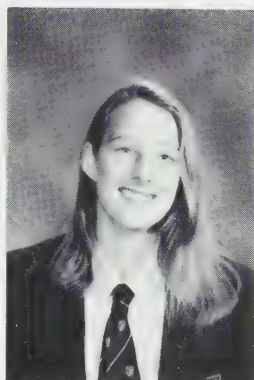

In early September, the grade eight class set out for four days of adventure at Camp Narnia. When we arrived, we were split into groups for cabins and activities, before getting settled. During our stay, we enjoyed orienteering, riding, canoeing, Hazardinia (the ropes course), camp fires and a gruelling day-long hike up Mount Maxwell.

Although we had to endure the usual camp hardships, we got to know each other much better and everyone had a great time.

SPORTS

Midget Volleyball

The Midget Girls Volleyball team has had a very good season this year. Our team consisted of twelve players and two coaches (Ms. Drever and Erin Henry.) We learned many new skills and had many chances to use them in our games and practices. Even though we did not do very well in game situations, we were a hardworking team.

Junior Volleyball

This year's Junior Girls Volleyball team was full of many capable young women. We had many great games, But unfortunately not enough to move any further in the league. That was okay because we all had fun and had experiences that we will always remember. Many thanks to our coach, Mr. Schmid.

The senior girls represented G.N.S. with class at the provincials again this fall. The process to get there and play good hockey has been a valuable one for everyone associated with the Gryphons Hockey Team. We all had to learn how to organize our often too busy schedule and focus on the tasks at hand. We overcame frustration, injury, fatigue and strong opponents to achieve almost all of our goals. We saw each other through and not through each other; a sign of true loyalty. Although we did not place in the top four of the province, which was one of our goals, we certainly achieved our goal of having fun this season. On any given day, playing our best hockey we could play against the best of teams.

Juni Field Ho

This year there were many Junior Girl were enthusiastic to play field hockey for the were so many players that the girls were divided into Tuesday Tigers and Thursday Thunders. Both had great seasons with mixed results of winning and losing (fun trying to perfect our skills, especially using push-ups.) It was a very

My sincerest thanks to Mr. Colin Curtis, and Mr. Jonathan 'Mud' Marshall for so ably coaching the Forwards. The success of the season was due in no small measure to their invaluable assistance. Many thanks, as well, to the team manager, Ms. Andra Richter, loyally assisted by Ms. Sarah Berry. The team couldn't have done it without them.

It was my great honour to coach the Junior team throughout their season. I was particularly pleased with the number of players regularly coming to each practice and game - thirty-three! This augers well for the next year's Junior team.

BASKETBALL

Senior Girls

...and had a more successful season than many people had anticipated. Although they did not win every game, the girls had a lot of fun, both on and off the court. They learned never to talk of death and car accidents before the games, or else the game was doomed! Thanks very much to the coach, Atis Metuzals, and the sponsors, Mrs. Harvey and Mr. Brooks. Their support was greatly appreciated through the duration of the season.

Junior Girls

Congratulations to the Junior Girls on their excellent season! Our victories were not too abundant (we just didn't want to be too overpowering!), but the positive attitudes were. The energy and enthusiasm put forth by our team made our games lots of fun. We had the most fun at the I.S.A. tournament in Vancouver (we're just so spunky). Special thanks to our terrific coach, Ms. Drever (who knows what to look for in a man!), Leigh Kjekstad (our beautiful and talented manager), and Mr. Hockley for driving us to the I.S.A.'s. SWOOSH!

Midget Girls

They were the first Midget Girls Basketball team to record victories in its season. Was it in the shoes? The answer is NO! In this case, it was the girls who made the debut of both Chris Wong and Richard Bailey as coaches very enjoyable. This was the first midget team to have made the city playoffs. The girls gave it their all and placed eighth on the Island. Great season, girls! Thanks for all your efforts, Chris, Rich and Miss J!

This year, the Senior Boys Basketball team kept the tradition of greatness alive. We had a variety of players on the team, ranging from Grade 10's to Grade 12's. Despite the age differences, we all played as a team in tournaments where we met many high ranking teams and many challenges. We may not have won, but the experience that we gained definitely helped us out during the rest of the season. So, if you think that this year was a success, wait until next year. Thanks for the support, fans!

Junior Boys

The Junior Boys Basketball team had a short but sweet season. They had a modified game schedule and played only exhibition games. They ventured to St. George's to take part in the I.S.A. tournament, in which they played to their maximum potential. This team set a great foundation for future squads.

Midget Boys

The Midget Boy's basketball team had an outstanding season this year. In exhibition play, the team won five games and lost two, while in league play they ended up with a five and three record which qualified them for the city play-offs. At the conclusion of the play-offs, the team had finished tied for fifth in the nineteen team league. In addition, the team finished second at the I.S.A. Championships.

The team's most valuable player award was shared by Ewan DeWolf and Steve Tait, and the team's most improved player was Ben Axmann.

The number of games won, lost, or tied is only one way of defining success. Other measures include participation, enjoyment, increased knowledge about and love of the game, and increased personal and team skills.

I am delighted to report that the Midget Boys' Soccer Team had a successful season in all these areas. Under the more-than-capable coaching of Matt Brooks, with his enthusiastic approach and leadership, his team grew from having the bare minimum number of players at the beginning of the season, to having more than enough players by the end of the season. Over the season, the boys improved greatly as a team and eventually placed third in a league of eleven teams. In the seven-a-side tournament, which was the finale of the season (and in which we entered two teams so that more of the boys could play), our two teams finished sixth and twelfth respectively.

In every game throughout the season, and especially in the tournament, I was impressed by the way in which the team played with regard to both effort and sportsmanship. It has been a pleasure being associated with this group of boys.

What a great year it has been for the Swimming Team!!! Our coach this year was Grant Mottershead, a life guard and swimming instructor at Oak Bay Rec and all around good guy. Twenty-four students participated in the swimming program.

As always, the highlights of the year came at the meets. The Vancouver Island Regional Swim Meet was held at the Crystal Pool in late October. GNS sent a team of 22 swimmers. From the Regional Meet eight of our swimmers qualified to carry the GNS colours on to the B.C. Championships held at UBC in Vancouver on November 14. At the B.C.s Sarah Matthew and Greg Hounslow were individual competitors in the women's 50 meter breast stroke and men's 50 meter back stroke respectively. Two GNS relay teams also competed. Sarah Matthew, Kim Glen, Saskia Humer, and Mignon Hackett made up the girl's relay team. The boy's relay team was made up of Greg Hounslow, Ben Kerr, Ewan DeWolf, and Vincent van Schaik, who brought home the seventh place ribbon from the Provincials.

It was a great season all round for the senior swimming, and judging from the talent on the team, next year will be a great one, too.

PREFECTS

At the beginning of the year, I heard someone in the hallway say, "Holy! We have the weirdest Prefects this year!" I don't think I could have said it better myself. We definitely had a group of, shall we say, "unique" prefects, and it was that twist, along with hard work and tons of energy, that made them the true leaders of the school. Things may never be the same without them. Thanks for all your support and help!

STUDENT COUNCIL

This has been a year of changes, many of which were due to the unprecedented efforts of the Student Council. Our dances were successful, and the year brought lots of new events and positive attitudes to the school. Though their accomplishments were great and numbered, the most significant of all maybe that they taught me how to spell. Thanks for everything, guys!

SPORTS COUNCIL

This past year, G.N.S. athletics have reached a new peak. School participation, combined with house spirit, has allowed intramurals and other interhouse events to become a success. We thank all those who gave overwhelming support. The Sports Council has worked hard to make sports fun for all involved. Thank you to all those who donated their time without being asked; best of luck to next year's Sports Council.

The Peer Counselling group has been busy this year organizing activities through each of the three terms. The P.C. group's main goal is to make school life a little easier for the student body. Events, like Tacky Tie Day, Candygrams, and Heart Day are all designed to fulfill this purpose.

SPECIAL KIWANIS YOUTH

The G.N.S. Sky Club is the largest in Victoria and is the largest that has ever been at our school. The enthusiasm is terrific and we appreciate the effort made by the students to be active in the community. We would also like to thank our sponsor, Mrs. Sapriken, for all her help and support. Keep up the good work everyone.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

This year's Public Affairs Forum was the largest group on the history of this club at G.N.S. Due to the vast size of the group, five committees were formed in order to facilitate all the various interests amongst members. The Model United Nations committee successfully organised the annual Model U.N. Conference which attended by many local highschools. The Amnesty International committee meet regularly to write letters of the behalf of political prisoners of conscience. The Environmental Awareness committee organized recycling as well as Earth Day. The 24-Hour Famine committee raised money for Street Kids International. A.S.A.P (Aware Students Achieving Peace) assisted in organizing the peace walk.

I can only hope that this interest and concern for international affairs will continue to prosper within our student body.

JUNIOR DEBATING

After last year's successes at the regionals, provincials, and with a couple going off to the nationals, the Junior Debating Team made a strong start this year at the Newman Fisa and the Ravenhurst Debates. We are hoping for more successes at the coming regionals and possibly the provincials for qualifying debaters. Through hard work and last minute speech writing, we know the debaters will do their best.

Senior Debating

This year the Senior Debating team epitomized the subtle art of acting experienced. Actually most of the debaters were uninitiated to tournament debating. We were able to get some work done, while shoving pizza in our mouths and yelling at each other. Yet again, Ms. Chatterton's patience was tried in hearing those last-minute speeches. From all of us debaters we would like to send a HUGE thank-you to Ms. Chatterton for her unending support.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

This year the Public Speakers went to Port Hope, Ontario, for the International Public Speaking Competition!! We were fairly inexperienced but were able to do very well for our first time in this sort of competition. Thanks to last minute preparations, memorizing speeches the week before and on the plane trip over, as a school, we were able to place 12th overall, and in our dramatic monologues, we placed 8th, 9th, and 10th individually. We all agree that it was a wonderful experience, and we came back with lots of new friends and lots of unforgettable memories. Special thanks to Miss. Chatterton for supporting us and of course, a special thanks to the school for allowing us to go to this competition, which was an experience never to be forgotten.

SENIOR DRAMA

We had lots of fun giving you, our adoring public, the entertainment you like. The play The Boyfriend was a real success. It starred several very talented actors, singers, and dancers from Grades 11 and 12. We wish to thank Miss Chatterton for directing us and giving us all those exciting rehearsals to look forward to on the weekend, and to thank Heather Day and Michael Gormley for their help and guidance.

JUNIOR DRAMA

Over forty Grade 8 and 9 students contributed to a successful Junior Drama Production of William Shakespeare's Twelfth Night in November.

A modern-dress adaptation of the original, the production featured modern music, leather jackets, polyester pants and an appearance by Elvis Presley.

The real feature, of course, was the fine work of the cast and crew that made for three hilarious evenings of Shakespearean comedy.

CHESS CLUB

One of our newest clubs, The Chess Club got off to a roaring start this year. So many kids started playing that we did not have enough boards. The Chess Club normally met on Monday and Thursday afternoons, but students came to the library at lunch, at break and after school everyday to play chess. Though our tournament play does not begin until the spring we fully expect to have some excellent results from all of our regular players. Maybe by the spring, Mr. Clazie the Chess Club sponsor, will be able to beat one of them!

Front row: Tania Harsono, Olivia Cheung.

Kayaking was totally superbe. Mackenzie's bright yellow, rubber pants stunned us all. Edmund's forgetful mind only brought him along a couple times. Mike's clumsiness brought hours of comical relief. We won't say anything about Bethan, since I am writing this. John made quite a statement with his wooly, red hat and personalized life jacket. Seamus and Mike had wonderful waterfights. Sarah began her 15th year of life with a splash in the ocean. Muffins, cookies, doughnuts and life savers went down well with the mouthfuls of saltwater. It was groovy.

ART AND

A stylized illustration at the top of the page. On the left, a person is shown from the waist up, holding a camera. In the center, a person stands with arms outstretched, wearing a hat and a skirt. On the right, a framed picture hangs, depicting a landscape with a tree and a building.

The Voice

He became dizzy,
He fell to his knees,
Put his ear to the ground
And heard nothing;
He smiled, She smiled;
They shed their clothes
And ran down the track
'Til they could not see
Where they had once been;
They ran off the track,
Tumbled to the ground
And rolled to the trees
Where they couldn't be seen
By the passing trains;
They loved each other;
She gave him her heart,
He gave her a ring.

He was hunting,
And came upon the track;
He fell to his knees,
Put his ear to the ground
And heard a Voice;
The Voice said:
"Come, my son,
Follow the steel track,
Meet me at the end;
I am the trestles
Over the steep ravines,
I am the tunnels
Through high mountains;
Follow me to your end."

He trusted The Voice,
And followed The Voice
Over trestles
And to the end
Of the tunnels.

She was hunting
For her lost love;
She came to the track.
A salty tear
Rolled down her cheek
And splashed upon
The cold steel track;
She ran down the track;
A train chased her
Over the trestles
And through the tunnels;
It chased her down
'Til it caught up;
She was tired,
She fell down upon the track;
The train ate her,
Rolled over without notice
But a ring without a finger.

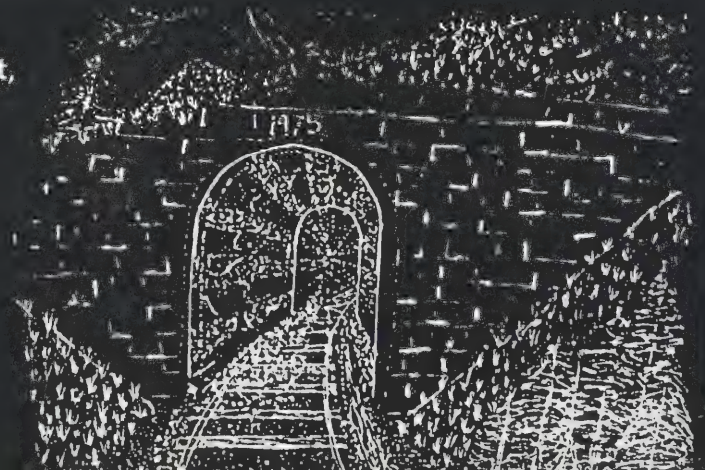

The Voice said:
"Come my beloved,
Follow the right way,
Follow the steel track,
Over the ravines,
Through the mountains,
Meet me at the end
Of the lit tunnel;
Come to your end,
Come to my end."

as the tiny fresh smelling figures creep down the silent stairs to get a glimpse of the shadowy forms kissing

LITERATURE

Life to Live For

The lights glitter
Upon the harbour water.
The sky is gently sprinkled
With the ancient light of stars.
The sound of bells chiming is heard
As halyards clang against masts
Of the rocking boats.
A warm summer breeze dances through,
Frolicking with resting sails.
Small waves tap on the regal bows
To stir up a conversation.
A jellyfish bobs
Gracefully hugging the water
Giving each little drop a touch of love.
The rhythmic sound
Made by a heron as he flies by . . .
I rise
And see the world of the night harbour
Has completely vanished.
Now there is a new world.
Car horns honk,
Sunlight dances,
Sparkles,
Reflecting upon the harbour.
Day has come,
But the wavelets still tap for conversation,
And the jellyfish hugs each small drop of water,
And the heron once again flies by.
The breeze is still,
The sun caresses my face with warm rays.
Life is a beautiful thing

Mackenzie Harvey,
Grade 11

Footsteps

The thunder roared, the lighting flashed,
and the little girl began to panic.

Left alone, so black outside; she sits in silence, nowhere to hide.

But it wasn't just the wind that moaned and groaned deep within,

Nor was it the noisy rain drops,
pelted against the window frame.

For all of this she was to ignore but the approaching footsteps along the floor . . .

Nicola Stewart,
Grade 9

Street People

Rooting through the garbage bins,
They collect their tin-can treasures
And beg passers-by for a few coins.
Sometimes lucky but mostly disdained,
They seek shelter in a bus-stop,
With only a piece of newspaper
For cover.

They wake, only to find themselves
Cold, damp, and hungry,
In a cruel, desolate world.

Gavin Porteous,
Grade 8

Poems on these two pages are the winners of this year's Literature Contest.

Deceptions

Everyone is smiling.
Some standing on books
to be taller.
Some that don't belong.
Everyone is trying to be something they are not.

Look at the faces.
Big faces, little faces, fat faces skinny faces.

Quickly, look at the faces!
They are just the same as before,
but yet have changed.

Now there are rows and rows of masks,
Each person hiding
behind her own,
A thick shell keeping the world
From knowing their hopes and fears,
dark desires and evil deeds.

Who is an angel,
and who is the devil incarnate?
We cannot tell.

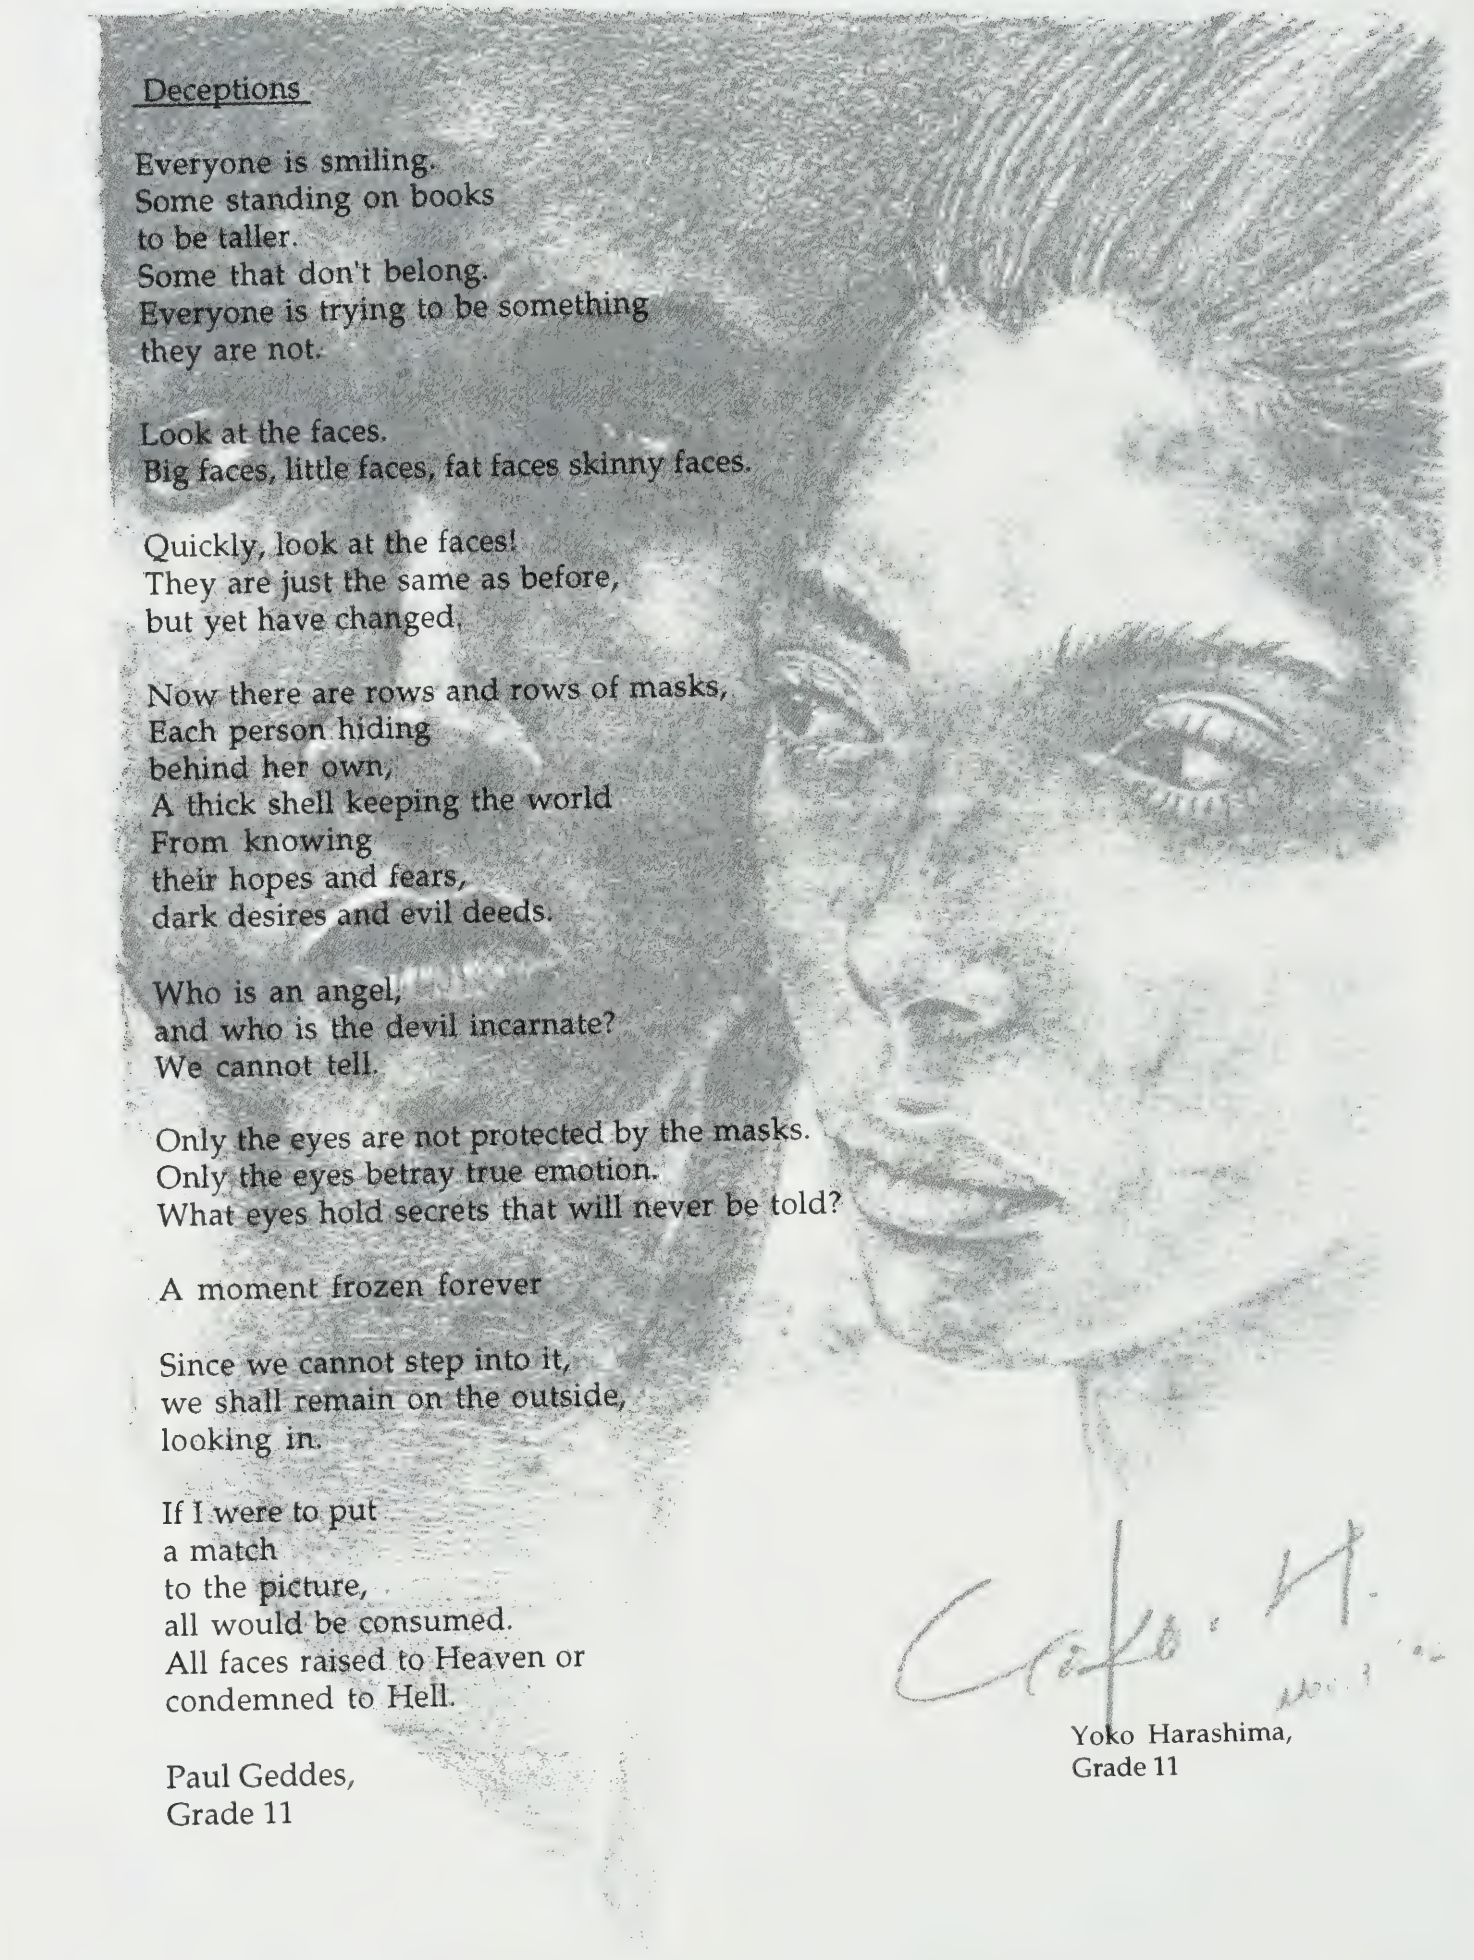

Only the eyes are not protected by the masks.
Only the eyes betray true emotion.
What eyes hold secrets that will never be told?

A moment frozen forever

Since we cannot step into it,
we shall remain on the outside, looking in.

If I were to put a match
to the picture,

On the Wrong Side of the Moon

Do you not like me
Because I distract you
From your own little world?

Do you not like me
Because I take you away
To the edge of the storm
And leave you there
To deal with yourself?

Do you not like me
Because I take you
Into the eye of the storm
And leave you there
To deal with your thought?

Will you not love me
When I kiss your mind
And bruise your soul?

Will you not love me
With all of your faults
And all my questions?

Will you not love me
In the dead of night
When the two of us
Shiver with cold fright?

Could you not love me
When we're on the moon
Or in your own room?

Could you not love me
Even when we're too close
To give warm kisses
In the heat of the night?

Could you not love me
When you're dead inside
And no one seems to care?

Will you still love me
When you're all alone
With no one to talk to?

Could we be lovers
Through the death of fall
When all are dying
And choking on the fruit
Of our love?

Could we be lovers
When we agree to nothing
And hate stands in our way
To the freedom we need?

Could we still be lovers
When distractions grab us
And retard our love
'Til we stand alone
On the wrong side
Of the dark, cold moon?

Trees

Dead trees, looking like skeletons
in the night.
Trees without leaves,
cold and naked.
Green trees,
growing up tall and strong.
Different trees,
in nature's clutch.
Trees dropping leaves,
for us to rake.
Trees getting cut down to make that rake.
More trees growing,
to save the earth.
Dying trees, falling and crashing to the floor
Will make this earth,
Never more

Cathedral

Here I stand,
In the midst of the cathedral of the world.
Kneeling on the green moss,
I look up to the sky that is covered with glistening stars.

I am surrounded
By a forest of trees, sweeping into the void.
Their greatness overpowers me.
The raindrops are more beautiful than the most polished shards of stained glass.

The crickets and squirrels are the most reverent congregation.
Each entity is reaching for the heavens,
Yearning for something beyond.
The choir of the birds
resounds with hymns of praise.

The sermon is delivered by the moon,
Smiling down upon the world.
There is no silence here, in my Cathedral of the World.

The Student

Looking at the clock,
Listening to the teacher talk,
Watching the hands move on Thinking you were gone.

Chewing on your tongue,
Twiddling your thumbs,
Peeking out the door,
Tapping your shoes on the floor.

Looking as though you're done,
When you haven't started question number one,
Chewing on your lip.
You don't understand a bit.

Then you hear it, droning like a plane,
Beeping like a car horn, shouting like a train.

The Poem Painter

As I lie down to sleep at night
And my thoughts all sink like lead,
The poem painter comes along
And paints pictures in my head,
Not pictures of paintings
As the painting-painter does,
But pictures of poems,
With the words written in above.
Some poems come pre-edited,
And some come jumbled up,
But either way I write them down
And pretend I made them up.

What May Have Been

You don't know it,
But I see through your disguise.
I see the cold and bitter heart
Behind your innocent eyes.
Of course I loved him,
Any girl would.
It was a trusting, simple love.
Childlike, nothing but good.
How could you take him,
When it had just begun?
Why must you hurt me more,
More than you've already done?
Always, you have it all.

You are ever lucky,
But where is my luck?
The sun is setting,
Yet I will remember.
He loved me before your poison.
Though the thorn has torn my heart,
I will take this sliver of hope,
And lay it beside the pain.
The night seems eternal,
But the sun will rise again.

A Friend

When I was five,
All I ever wanted was a friend...
To play with me,
To share his toys,
and
Be nice to me.

When I was ten,
All I ever wished for was a friend...
To play with me,
To share my homework,
To talk to me,
To stay with me,
and
Be nice to me.

When I was fifteen
All I ever needed was a friend...
To play with me,
To share my feelings
To talk to me,
To stay with me,
Understand me,
Care about me,
Go out with me,
and
Be nice to me.

And now,
All I ever want,
All I ever wish for,
All I ever need is a friend...Just a friend.

Sorry.
I opened the dictionary and put my study glasses on.
Not for the eagerness of learning new words,
but for the eagerness of the sweet candy.
And then I closed up dictionary, took off my study glasses,
and headed to the store
with your bill inside my palm.

Two curves that meet together,
But as one they'll live forever.

Through thick and thin, but still as one
They'll live until the world is done.

But what if these two curves break,
And no longer is there love, but hate

Creating tears and empty cries
And stories which are full of lies?

How big a difference can this make,
Whether two curves meet or break?

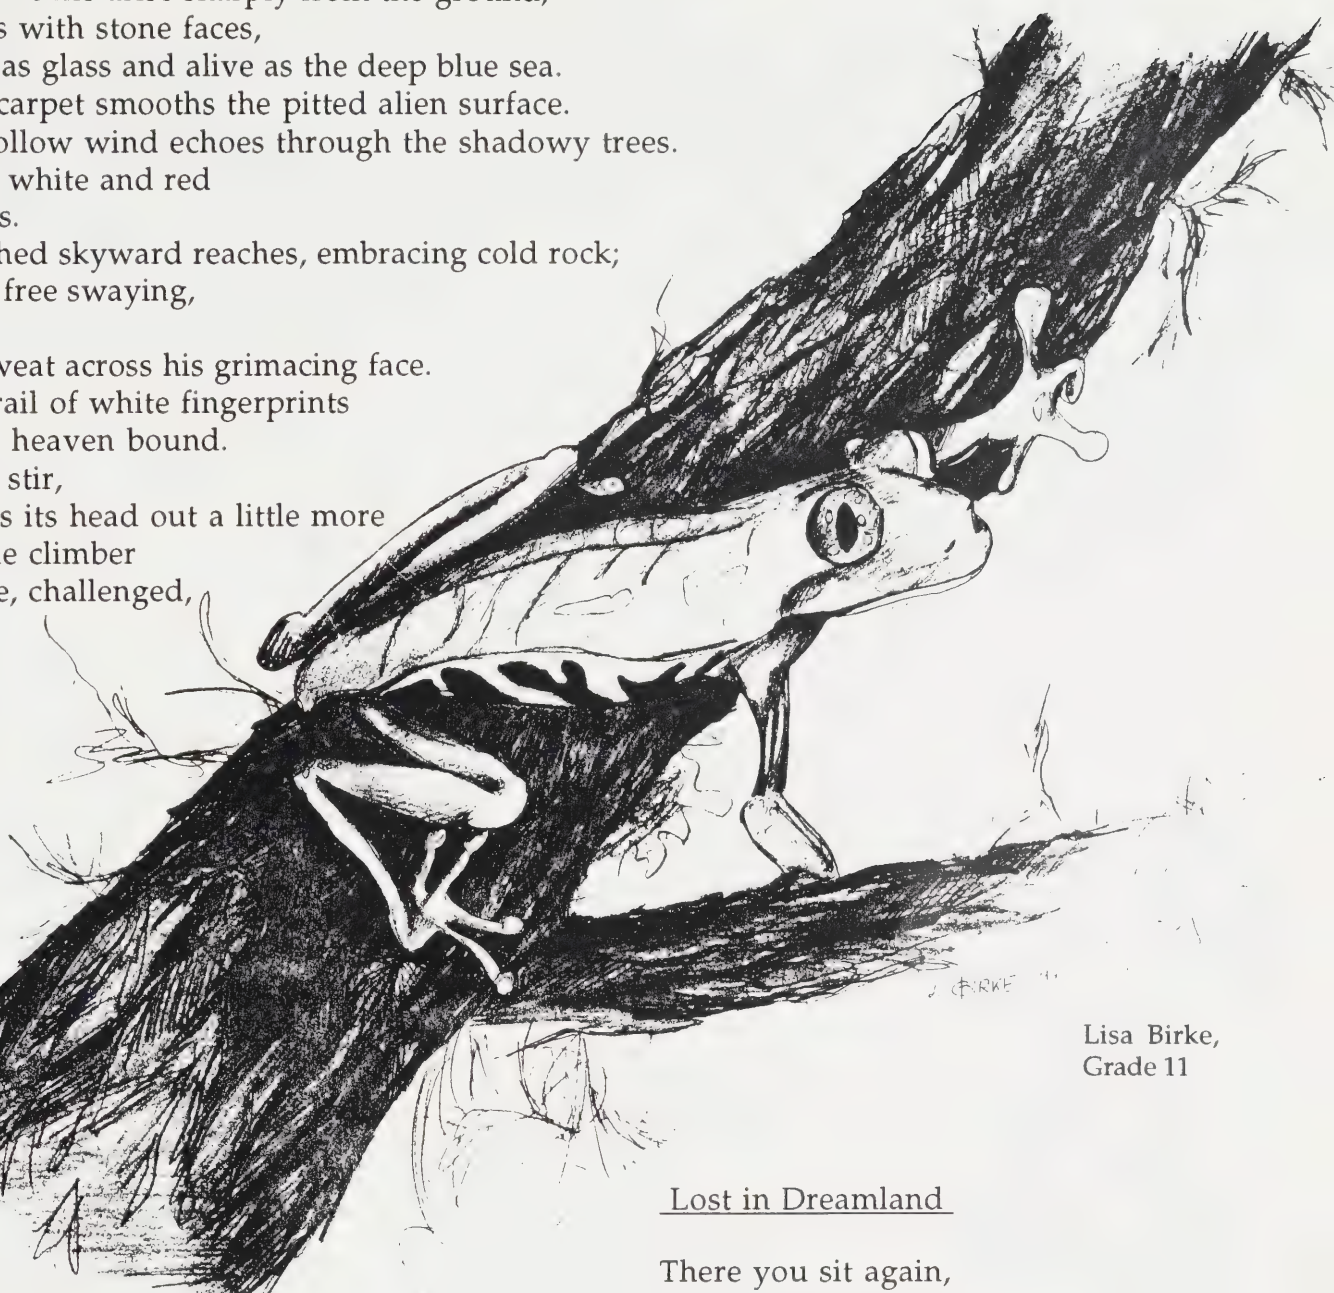

Now where does each curve go?
How is a heart supposed to know?

Stain on the Wall

Gray and black cliffs arise sharply from the ground,
Sharp features with stone faces,
Faces smooth as glass and alive as the deep blue sea.
An off-green carpet smooths the pitted alien surface.
A whisper of hollow wind echoes through the shadowy trees.
A curiosity of white and red
Delicately stirs.
A hand stretched skyward reaches, embracing cold rock;
Hanging, feet free swaying, Flowing.
A trickle of sweat across his grimacing face.
He leaves a trail of white fingerprints
As he climbs, heaven bound.
As the clouds stir,
The sun pokes its head out a little more
And greets the climber
And he is free, challenged, Alone.

Lost in Dreamland

There you sit again,
Lost in Dreamland;
Building up another castle on a cloud
Far away from reality.
You don't care about the real world, do you?
You never give it a thought
You always want a way to escape,
A way to forget.
Well listen to me!
What will happen to your castle on a cloud
When that cloud pours rain,
Or when the all-revealing sun of truth
Penetrates your castle walls?
What will you do then my friend?

Straight Line

I am ruthless in direction.
I am oblivious to my setting.
I am exacting, demanding,

Wildfire

The evil grin licked up onto his face,
Like wildfire over young trees.
No words were needed, and none were used.
The Nazi armband spoke for itself.
And for my religion I would die.

We marched onward,
Toward the crematorium
Where others before me had gone.
Smoke billowed out into the night air,
And before I left, my shouts of "Long live the Jews"
Echoed across the land.

Sixteen

Sixteen candles on your cake,
A man beside you when you wake.
First school; then a low paying job.
Your newest boyfriend's name is Bob.
With your seniority, the pay gets better.
You can afford that maternity sweater.
You decide upon your boyfriend Harry.
You now take your maternity leave.
You name your baby boy John Steve.
Ten years later you've had three more.
Your life is nothing but a bore.
They all move out and so does he,
And leave you alone in ecstasy!

When you are dead?

Shape

Why does shape have to be so confining?

Shape limits our simple thoughts and projects a stronger image that with words. Not only does it limit our creative abilities and talents, but it discourages us to express ourselves freely in a manner uninhibited by boundaries and rules.

But we must be governed by something other than ourselves;
otherwise we might just get carried away and not realize that what we are doing is not supposed to be done. Why should we conform to someone else?

To give-in so that I can please someone else is not what represents who I am. But we must answer to somebody sometimes, or else we lose our sense of duty to those who need our help. Trying to adjust to an environment not your own is repressing and uncomfortable, but then again, we need shape.

The Forgotten

The distant scream of the sirens
Penetrate through the still darkness
And enter the desolate alley,
Lost between two high rise casinos.

A body stirs from among the trash.
Waste is pushed aside as flesh emerges.

The moisture on the decaying walls
Catches the cold reflections
Of a neon world outside,
An untouchable dream.

Ai Fukuda,
Grade 10

The hollow eyes look everywhere
For anything,
Yet find only desolation
In these vague surroundings.

Lost till eternity,
The body once again
Embraces the warmth of the refuse
And allows the gluttonous waste of others
To provide his humble meal and shelter
For another listless night.

The distant wail of a siren
Can be heard through the alley.
Nothing has changed.
Nothing ever will.

Life is a race.
There is a start and an end.
In between,
One has to run
On and on,
Without stopping
Until the goal is reached.

Everyone starts out at the same point,
Being overseen by The Mighty Father:
When one should start,
When one should end.

In the race,
Some competitors run faster,
Others slower;
Some struggle quite a bit,
While others go rather smoothly.
But no one,
No one has ever been able to Sprint through the whole journey
Without any obstructions at all.

All of them,
Except those who do not even have
A chance to begin the race,
Have to end their ordeal
when the time comes:
Some earlier,
Other unlucky ones, later.
Nevertheless,
The race has to end
somewhere, somehow, sometime.
After all, it is a fair act:
Everyone chooses his own route,
Everyone chooses how the race should be run.

Life is a race.
When it ends,
The body ceases working.
It sinks
And blends with the Earth.
The soul returns to the Father,
Awaiting rebirth.

The Man Shivered

The man shivered
from the coldness of the earth.
His frigid eyes: frozen foods.
He spread his wounded arms, dragging his left leg, slowly walking towards the edge of the valley.

"Where do I fit in?"

His heart was beating, held fast from the un-sureness of himself;
weeping, weeping, weeping.

"Where's my angel gone?"

He called to Sophia,
from faith and wisdom;
praying, praying, praying.

"Where's my guardian angel?"

He was frightened by loneliness, from the need for somebody to hold on to;
waiting, waiting, waiting.

The man shivered again.

A friend like you
Is hard to find;

Someone to trust the way I trust you
Is hard to find;

A person who likes me for who I am
Is hard to find,

But when the search is done,
And the special person is found,
I feel rich;
Not weighed down with possessions,
But rich in the ways that matter-
Full of happiness,
Complete with love.
I become
A special person too,
For I know that for you too,
I am the end of a search.

Don't Quit

When things go wrong as they sometimes will;
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill;
When funds are low, and debts are high;
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh;
When care is pressing you down a bit-
Rest if you must, but don't you quit.
Success is failure turned inside out;
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt;
And you never can tell how close you are;
It may be near when it seems afar.
So, stick to the fight when you're hardest hit-
It's when things go wrong that you mustn't quit.

SOME KIDS ARE DYING FOR A HIGH.

Maybe it's boredom. Maybe it's peer pressure. Maybe it's the availability of drugs and alcohol that kills thousands of young people each year. These are all hard things to change.

One thing we can do to help more teens choose a drug free life is to show them how great living straight can be.

The last thing we want to see is a death that could have been prevented.
Help us make sure we don't.

Winter

I like winter because I have fun with my family and my dog. The first thing I like to do is play outside. You can sleigh down a hill and you can make a snowman and put up the Christmas lights too, but the best thing I like to do is spend some time with my family and help my mom make the gingerbread house and help my dad carry the Christmas tree. But I just like putting the decorations on the tree with my family.

Why Santa Wears Red

A long time ago Santa wore green, but he didn't like that colour and then he tried brown and he did not like that either. So he went to Hawaii to catch a tan but he forgot to put suntanning lotion on and he got a sunburn. He jumped in the water. A shark started to chase him. Lucky an elf came to pick him up. He thanked the elf and the elf said you're welcome and rode off. The elf said that Santa looks good in red. He got back to the North Pole. He was freezing. He got into some red clothes and he liked that colour and that is why Santa wears red. The end.

Rivers

Flowing smoothly to the ocean,
Splashing over high rocks too,
Speeding down the great wide bed,
Zooming fast away from you.

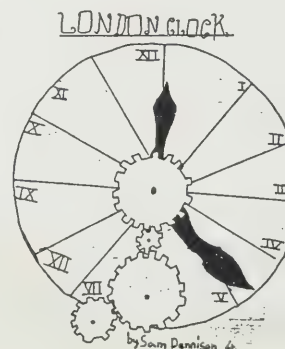

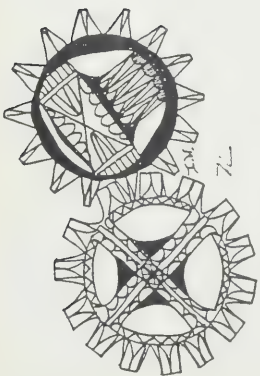

Dragging past the tall oak trees,
Past the pretty flowers.
Stand there watching it flow past,
Watching it for hours.

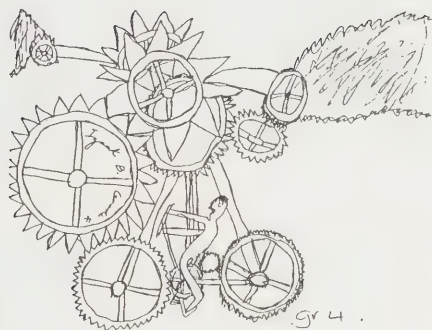

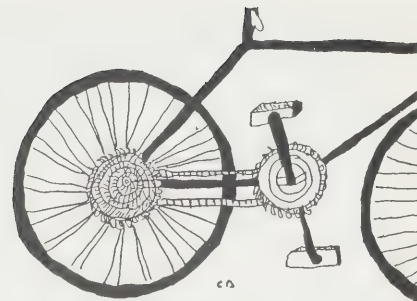

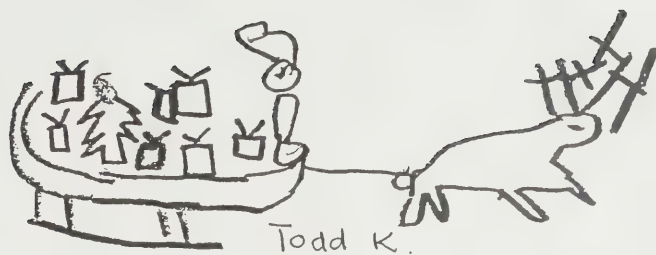

It pulls along the dirt and rocks,
To the river's mouth,
They settle soon, on the bottom
The river flows on south.

On the river drifting 'long,
You'll see all kinds of fish,
Being on the river,
Is many peoples' wish.

A river flows downhill,
Flowing to a lake.
The power from these great rivers
Is nothing you can make.

Jeremy Nussle, Grade 6S

Fido

I ran down the stairs as Billy called my name, "Fido." He opened the front door and we both tore out of the house to see what awaited us outside. Billy's mom and dad were sitting in the front seat of the old '79 Malibu station wagon. Billy's dad said, "Hop in, son, and bring the dog along because we are going for a drive in the country."

I hung my head out the window and let the wind plaster my whiskers against my face. We turned onto a bumpy gravel road. Both Billy and I started to get excited, knowing that we were getting closer to the lake. The car stopped in a cloud of dust, and we all piled out. I ran down to the lakeshore to get a drink. Out of the corner of my eye I spotted a rabbit darting into the underbrush. Boy, was I in the mood for a good chase, so I took up pursuit. I chased that rabbit until I thought my lungs were going to explode, but I lost the trail. I made my way back to the lakeshore, and when I stopped panting, I saw that the station wagon wasn't there.

Following the familiar scent of the old car, I hurriedly ran down the gravel road. As it became nightfall, I started to get worried realizing that I didn't have any idea where I was. Feeling very tired, I found a mossy tree stump which I bedded down beside. In the morning I awoke with dew covering my body. I shook it off and continued on my journey, searching for my lost family.

After awhile, I came across the wide path of a bear. So instead of battling with the underbrush, I decided that if it was good enough for the bear, it was good enough for me. When I became too tired to go on, I stopped in a sheltered place and fell into a deep sleep. When I awoke in the morning, I thought that I had heard something. I looked around and saw nothing. I returned to my botanical bed.

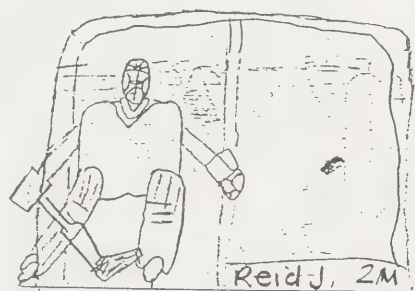

Before I knew it, I was forced awake by a large bear. He swiped at me, and I narrowly avoided his huge paw. I quickly darted at his leg and grabbed it. He swiped at me again, and this time he hit me hard in the side. I flew into a low-hanging branch, fell to the ground and took off at a run.

I travelled through the forest for several more hours until I came to a fence. On the other side of the fence lay a concrete street about 400 metres in width. It was the highway. I walked along the fence until I came to an exit ramp where there was no barricade. I crossed the road and went into a service yard. I was still a long way from home but at least I was in civilization.

With determination, I travelled all night until I reached home, where I lay down on the front lawn exhausted. In a half-asleep tone, I heard the excited voice of Billy, "Fido, is that you? It is! Come here, boy!" he called out. I ran into the house excitedly. Everyone was awake, and they all yelled, "Fido, oh Fido!" I was happy to be back with the family that I loved, and they were happy to have me back.

Why It Snows at Christmas

Once high up in the clouds there were the gods of the sky. And they loved bowling. Every December they would have a championship tournament and when someone got a strike, people would throw rice and the rice would fall through the clouds and turn into snow.

THE LIFEGUARD

The Lifeguard stands tall with glory,
Waiting for a moment to strike,
His eyes scan for trouble,
Then, a piercing shriek,
He sights the drowning victim,
As he calls for help, bodies clear the beach,
His muscular body rips the waves,
Trying to support her life,
Two strained bodies wash up on shore,
An ambulance arrives,
Another lifeguard,
Another hero.

Who Else?

The big horse neighed,
Opened his mouth,
Stretched his long legs,
And showed his clean hoofs.

Then he awoke,
And stood on four Long hairy legs,
And neighed some more.

He showed his big teeth,
He stretched his lip,
His long tongue
Was straight at the tip.

Lifting himself
On his hard hoofs,
He stretched his neck
As far as it went.

Then he pulled it back
With delicate care,
And galloped away
With his head in the air.

The Thermos and the Fairy

One sunny day at school, I went outside for recess. I opened my thermos and the most beautiful fairy sprang out. It said "Do not be so alarmed." She said it so sweetly I trusted her. She said, "I will grant you three wishes." So I said, "I wish I had as many wishes as I want." The fairy said, "I cannot grant you that wish but since I promised you anything for a wish, do you have another wish?" "No, I do not." So the fairy flew away. The next day, I opened my thermos and there was the fairy again. I said, "I do have a wish today. I wish I was a princess." So she said, "Now you are a princess." Then I said, "But how can I when my Mum is not a queen and my Dad is not a king and my sister is not another princess and my brother is not a prince, so how can I be a princess?" "Well then, if that is so, now your Mum is a queen and your Dad is a king and your sister is another princess and your brother is a prince. You will live happily ever after."

Dragon's Eye

A long time ago, there was a huge dragon with scales, a beautiful velvet body and a tail. The most gorgeous thing about him was his eyes - they were pale blue with green eyelids. The dragon was rich and powerful.

One day a young, dark-skinned boy came to visit the dragon.

"What are you doing in my castle?" the dragon asked rudely.

"I've come to ask a question," the boy replied in a very small voice. The dragon asked,

"Well, what do you want to ask me?"

"I don't know if I should become a wizard or not."

"Yes, do," said the dragon. So the young boy went to school and became a wizard.

Two years later he came back to the dragon and said,

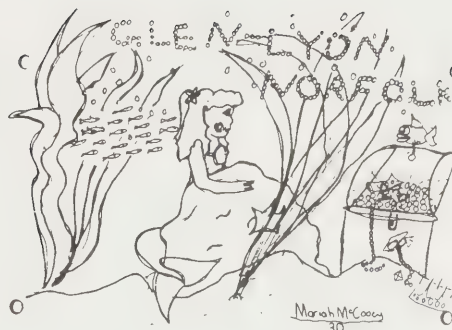

"I did what you told me."

The dragon cried,

"Bring me some food! I'm hungry!"

The boy was so angry, he mumbled out a few strange words and POOF!! The dragon was turned into glass, all except his eyes. They were turned into marble and that's how marbles were made.

The Old House

On Hallowe'en I went in an old spooky house. When I went up the stairs I almost slipped. It was very wet. But I managed. When I got to the top, I looked down the hall. There were broken mirrors on the walls. then I heard a noise, my heart began to thump. What if the house wa haunted? I said in a shaky voice, "Who is there?" then someone called, mimicking my voice, "I am here." I was so frightened but I was determined to know. So I trip-toed down the hall. I opened the door at the end of the hall and screamed. In the door was a goblin!! It was green with red spots. I ran all the way home!

Timmy Turkey

Once there was a turkey named Timmy. He was a very, very smart turkey. In fact he knew that soon there was a turkey dinner. He knew he was nice so he decided to let them eat him. He knew that that was a nice thing to do, so he got eaten, and that was the end of the nice Timmy Turkey.

Creature or man.
I march through the centuries
As fast as I can
Since the universe started

Darkness

Nobody there just me,
Alone and in the dark,
The lights outside,
On the snow, glow softly.

The warm flicker of flames,
Dance on an ash and alder stage,
Spirits come to sit with me,
To watch the fire glow.

Outside the snowy ground
Is cold,
Wind whips through the old oak tree,
And hits the window pane.

Those Spirits, good not bad,
Who come to sit with me
Are not seen, only felt,
Like wind upon the pane.

The lights soon flicker out,
The fire soon dies,
Then I am left alone
In the snow dark.

The Tide Pool

Warmth was what I felt. Walking side by side with my best friend, I was bare foot and could feel the soft sand under my feet. All we did was walk, taking in the wonderful scenery. The tide had risen to touch our feet.

We had just begun to walk back when I spotted a tide pool. It was quite a distance from where we were standing. The white clouds, like cotton balls, were floating in the sky. We walked towards the tide pool. It was teeming with life. A family of hermit crabs huddled in one corner, sea anemones crowded in another. And bristly starfish were scattered all around.

We began to get hot so we decided to run through the crystal clean sea.
We plunged into the water - it was warmer than I expected. We stared down in to the water and all we could see was white sand and swaying seaweed.

Suddenly we noticed that the sun was setting. The sky was slowly growing darker by the minute. The sun filled our senses with the multi coloured hues of orange and red. It made me feel as if it was too good to be real.

As we made our way back, I knew
I would return.

Hollow and forgotten
Once proud and majestic
Looming like a giant

Whispering like the wind

The elegant dances
The noble majesties
Every mirror is a pool of water rippled reminders
Of the people who swam through Moth-eaten draperies
The voices of the past
Rustling in the breeze
The pearl of night
Rises over this silent scene surrounded by sparkling diamonds.

A Windy Day

Have you ever been to a beach on a windy day,
With the wind always wanting to swirl and play?

Have you seen the waves smash into the rocks,
While the whitecapping sea laughs and mocks?

What about the seaweed that is thrown onto the shore,
And the sea wind that grows stronger more and more?

Do you remember the pearls of water that splashed in your face,
And the fish that jumped up and down all over the place?

Then it's dark, of course it's night, and soon the sun will rise, very bright.
And now the waves start to recede, the storm has completed its fierce deed

Then suddenly the wind is gone, the sun is rising, at last it's dawn.
The remnants of the storm get washed away, the sea is calm, it's a sunny day!

As you carry on in school and in the workplace, remember that the true measure of a person is how you treat those who are less fortunate than you are and that the only really important possession is self respect.
